GOOD TEMPLARS TO MEET.

The Grand Lodge Will Convene in Johnstown This Week.

Johnstown, Pa., July 14.—The grand lodge of Pennsylvania Independent Order of Good Templars, will hold its session in Johnstown this week. The sessions will be preceded by a public meeting tomorrow evening under the auspices of the juvenile department, which will be addressed by Miss Jessie Forsythe, of Boston, Mass., who is supreme superintendent of juvenile department for the work; also by Miss S. Ella Stern, of Pomeroy, Chester county grand superintendent of the state for juvenile work. The Hon. S. B. Chase of Hallstead, grand chief templar, will also talk at this meeting.

Tuesday evening there will be a public reception at the Young Men's Christian Association hall, when Rev. T. W. Barker of Ebensburg; Hon. S. B. Chase, Hon. T. K. Stubbs and Dr. D. H. Mann, the latter of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is grand chief templar of the world, will deliver addresses.

Wednesday morning the real business of the grand lodge will begin in the Grand Army of the Republic hall. From 150 to 500 delegates are expected from the various subordinate and district lodges.

The state executive committee is already here and consists of Past Grand Chief Templar Hon. T. K. Stubbs, of Oxford, Chester county; Grand Chief Templar Hon. S. B. Chase and Counsellor A. H. Leslie, of Pittsburg; Secretary C. E. Steel, of Minersville, Schulkill county; Treasurer Mrs. L. D. Rudy, of Philadelphia; Vice Templar Miss Bell Oden, of Philadelphia; and Superintendent of Juvenile Templar Miss Ella Stern.

The grand lodge will be in session until Thursday evening.

It Was Grand.

Lancaster, Ky., July 14.—A meteorological phenomenon was observed in the lower end of the county Saturday night about 11.30 o'clock. So far as learned, however, it was witnessed by only one person, Henry A. Burdett, who was returning on horseback along the road leading from Mt. Hebron to Bryantville. He describes it as a luminous, gigantic cylinder seemingly of fire, that suddenly reared itself vertically from the horizon into the northwestern sky. It remained in that position several seconds, and appeared to be hundreds of feet in height and at a vast distance. All at once a blaze of intense brilliancy spurted from the top of the gleaming column and cast into the heavens enormous quantities of glittering balls and scintillating sparks, and as these dropped back in a beautiful shower toward the earth the whole thing disappeared from view. During the occurrence the landscape far and wide was vividly illuminated, but immediately afterward was plunged into darkness.

Only Soda Water Fizzed.

New York, July 14.—This city passed through another arid Sunday to-day and, from the low deep growls emitted by the enforced "drys" it is a mistaken idea to suppose that the people who want their Sunday drink are getting used to the prohibitive state of affairs. However, it is certain that to-day was a counterpart of its predecessor since the Roosevelt fiat went forth, and there is every indication that its successors will be the same.

Since the decision of Judge McAdam, which was rendered a few days ago, in which it was held that the sale of soda water on Sunday was illegal, there has been much speculation as to the course the police would pursue in regard to that kind of traffic. The druggists and soda water dispensers, however, were not interfered with to-day, and the soda fizzed as merrily as ever.

The Christian Endeavor Convention.

Boston, July 14.—No meetings of the Christian Endeavor convention were held to-day, but the Endeavors crowded the city churches, while many distinguished clergymen from abroad preached.

An immense congregation thronged Trinity church in the morning to hear C. B. Richardson, of London, who preached a powerful sermon upon church unity, from Ephesians iv:3. He said that the Pope's recent encyclical while remarkable for its gentle and devout spirit, is permeated with assumption that Rome is only the one true church and reunion must be upon her dogmas. Any corporate union with Rome is impossible, so long as she retains her distinctive erroneous doctrines.

A Lost Art Recovered.

Des Moines, Ia., July 14.—S. R. Dawson of this city, has discovered a process of making Damascus steel. The best skilled metal workers declare his edge instruments to have every property of the old Damascus blades. He keeps the process a secret but says it is cheap. A company has been organized by local capitalists with $500,000 capital to develop the industry.

SEVERAL WHITES MURDERED.

Settlers Have a Fight With Indians —A Number of Red Men Was Killed.

Lander, Wyo., July 15.—It is reported that a second battle has occurred between the Bannock Indians and the white settlers in the Jackson Hole country, south of Yellow stone park.

Some Indians are reported to have been killed and several white men wounded at the Upper river, but no particulars have been received. On Tuesday morning W. L. Simpson, ex-county attorney, who has relatives living in Jackson Hole, headed a small party to go to the rescue of friends there. Work from Jackson Hole is anxiously awaited here.

A special message from Fort Washakie late last night says that in the encounter with the Indians three settlers and several Indians were badly wounded. Indian police were dispatched several days ago from Shoshone agency to Marysville, in Jackson Hale, and dispatches from there are due to day.

The trouble was started by an attempt to arrest a band of Bannocks, who were wantonly slaughtering female elks. Last year the Indians killed several hundred of the cow elks. The white settlers protested against the outrage and prepared to arrest and punish any band of Indians who should repeat the offense this year.

Had an Eventful Voyage.

New York, July 14.—The French liner La Normandie, which arrived from Havre this morning, had a decidedly eventful voyage. Just after her departure from Havre one of the shipment, Francois Leflem by name, was instructed to open one of the coal bunkers. He did so, using a naked light. As soon as the hatch was opened there was a rush of gas which instantly ignited at the lamp's flame and exploded with tremendous force, instantly killing Leflem and doing more or less damage to the bunker fittings.

On July 9, just after the passengers had seated themselves at dinner, fire was discovered in the forehold, and a fire alarm was instantly sounded. The crew ran to fire stations and lines of hose were stretched along the decks. The passengers were quiet and orderly under the circumstances and there was no panic. Officers and crew worked systematically all night long and toward morning had the fire well under control. At 9 o'clock on the morning of the 10th the fire was entirely out. The passengers drew up a set of resolutions thanking Captain Deloncle, his officers and crew for their bravery and energy. La Normandie made port without further incident. On July 6, off the Lizard, the St. Louis passed in sight of the French steamer and quickly drew ahead and out of sight.

The Defense Will Claim Self-defense

Trenton, July 14.—Prosecutor Bayard Stockton received a letter yesterday from G. Cochran, of Williamsport, the Princeton College student, who was wounded by one of the balls fired by J. S. Collins, the colored man who is charged with the murder of Fred Ohl also a student, Saturday night, June 8. The letter states that Cochran will be here next Tuesday morning to testify at the trial.

It appears that Cochran is anxious to give the testimony on behalf of the state, but the defense have strong hopes that in the cross examination they will show that Collins was obliged to defend himself by using his revolver. It is generally understood that Collins, through his lawyers, will set up the plea that he committed the deed in self-defense.

The lawyers who will defend Collins are C. H. Beasley and J. L. Conrad, of this city, and Senator W. D. Daly of Hudson county, the prosecutor, will be assisted by W. H. Apgar. Collins does not appear to worry much over the approaching trial. He eats and sleeps well. He is 22 years old, weighs 120 pounds, and is not tall.

Firemen's Pension Delayed.

Harrisburg, July 14.—Supplemental legislation will be required to make the law effective proving for the payment of one half of the revenues derived by the State from the tax on premiums collected in Pennsylvania from insurance companies of other States and countries into city and borough treasuries. While the fund, which will amount to $75,000 a year, is intended for firemen's relief associations to pension firemen the law does not say what disposition shall be made of it. Councils could authorize city and borough treasurers to apply it as the law intends it shall be applied, but many would hesitate to exercise the authority in the absence of legislative direction.

A recent issue of the Clearfield Republican said: At a family gathering in the home of Wm. A. Terpe, at Redfern, this county, last week, there was present Asaph Kirk, of Grampian, the head of five generations of his family.

COLLINS IS ON TRIAL.

Some Trouble Experienced in the Obtaining of a Jury.

Trenton, N. J., July 15.—The trial of John S. Collins, the negro who shot the Princeton students, Fred Ohl and Garret Cochran, was begun in the county court this forenoon. Cochran, the student who survived Collin's bullet, was not present, but will be to-morrow if wanted. He has scarcely recovered yet from the effects of the shot to his system. Collins, neatly dressed in black, sat behind Chauncey Beasly and Senator Daly, his counsel. A number of Princeton students and many colored people were in court.

Collins' counsel, when it was announced that a jury would be drawn, moved for the quashing of the indictment on the grounds that its caption was defective, not containing a history of the case down to finding of the indictment. Counsel showed that numerous indictments of like character had been quashed in this state. Prosecutor Stockton said that the indictment was similar in form to all murder indictments ever drawn in this county. Judge Gummere said in view of the fact that the life of a person was involved this was a matter of considerable importance, and he would not decide the question until after consultation with the other judges on the bench. Court then adjourned till 1 o'clock.

Judge Gummere decided that the indictment was good, holding that the caption and body of the indictment are to be read together and that in that way the instrument becomes sufficient. Senator Daly took an exception and the drawing of the jury began.

Three hours were consumed in obtaining twelve men satisfactory to both sides. Candidates for the box were especially examined by the defense on the point whether they had any prejudice against the negro race and whether or not they hailed from Princeton or had relatives there. Two did come from Princeton and they were promptly excused from service. The feeling in the college town against Collins is very strong and his counsel determined to brook the presence of no Princetonians in the jury box. The state will open the case to morrow.

Bill Doolan's Love.

Perry, O. T., July 15.—When Bill Dalton, Bill Doolan and other members of their band of outlaws held up a train near Gainesville, Tex., two years ago, Doolan, winchester in hand, went through the passenger coaches and robbed the passengers. In one of the cars was Miss Bell Bailey, who was on her way to Purcell to teach school. Doolan was attracted by her and inquired where she was going.

Soon after Miss Bailey had taken charge of the school a stranger appeared at Purcell. He gave his name as Bullard and began paying attention to Miss Bailey. One day his real identity became known to her, when a deputy made an unsuccessful attempt to arrest him. Doolan escaped and six months later Miss Bailey left her school and followed him. Since then Doolan has been making every effort to secure leniency from the authorities. It is said that Miss Bailey is with him as his wife and is working for his reformation.

Bold Attempt at Assassination.

Sofia, July 15.—While ex-Prime Minister Stambuloff, accompanied by M. Petkoff, was walking home this evening from the Union club, he was attacked by four unknown men. Two of them shot him with revolvers while the other two stabbed him. M. Stambuloff fell to the ground moaning. He was removed to his residence and physicians were summoned. After an examination of the wounds the doctors announced that there was little hope of M. Stambuloff's recovery. The assassins escaped and there is no clue to their identity.

As to the Libel Laws.

Harrisburg, July 15.—At the meeting of the State Editorial association in Buffalo on Wednesday, Thomas V. Cooper, editor of the Media American, will present for consideration the draft of a proposed libel law which is intended to meet the abuses growing out of the present defective libel laws. One of its provisions is that suits for libel shall be instituted only in the counties in which the publication has been printed. It is proposed to appoint a committee of fifty to urge the next legislature to pass a proper libel bill.

Worse Than Rum.

Indigestion spoils more lives than rum. But you think you have "malaria" or "grip," or something worse. The trouble is all in the digestive track. Ripans Tabules bring a sort of Millennium with them. One gives relief, and their habitual use keeps the whole system in tone. Get them of your druggist. 7-18-1t

TALKING AGAINST TIME.

Roswell G. Horr and W. H. Harvey Discussing Finances.

Chicago, July 16.—Two men met in a little room at the Illinois club this afternoon and began a spirited contest of national moment, one fighting for silver and the other for gold with all the intellectual powers, facts and authorities at their command. One of them was Roswell G. Horr, once a member of congress from Michigan, now an editorial writer for the New York Tribune, and the other was W. H. Harvey, of Chicago, author of "Coin's Financial School." Mr. Horr championed the cause of gold, while Mr. Harvey threw down the gauntlet for silver.

The privilege of being present at this momentous contest was accorded to few. There were seats for about 200 persons in the assembly room of the house club, but only half that number were present.

Congressman J. C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania, a leader of the free silver forces in the east, occupied a prominent seat. He will remain during the debate unless business engagements prevent. A man with a watch sat at a table near the speakers, and whenever one had spoken eight minutes he would tap loudly on a call bell. This gave the speaker warning that he had two minutes more to conclude his statement. By these stages of ten minutes each the speakers will proceed for eight days, using only the afternoons and resting Sundays.

The debate was started by Mr. Horr, who referred to the author of "Coins financial school" with some severity. He said he never read a book containing so many misstatements.

Mr. Harvey in his statement contented himself with a presentation of his plan of campaign and told what he would prove.

Mr. Horr wanted to know why the names of prominent citizens had been used in Mr. Harvey's book and words put into their mouths that they had never used, to which Mr. Harvey replied his book was simply an allegory and the fact that a little boy was put in as teacher ought to be enough to prove to any sensible person that this was so.

Then the speakers plunged at once into the thick of the fight. The argument at all times was very spirited, and both speakers several times had hard work to preserve their tempers.

Died at the Age of 102.

Uniontown, Pa., July 16.—John Murray, aged 102 years, died at his mountain home near Wymps Gap, this county, Sunday. He was the oldest man in the county and had a very interesting history. He was born in Maryland, came to this state during the war of 1812. He marched with the American army across Licking Creek. A short time before his death he transferred his property to John Burnham and his sister-in-law, who had taken care of him and also rode to Bruceton, W. Va., and ordered his coffin, a black walnut casket. Murray never had any children, but raised fourteen orphans, all of whom will attend his funeral.

Mother and Daughter Burned to Death.

Bellaire, O., July 15.—At Barnesville, W. Va., to-day while Mamie Lloyd, aged 8 years, was playing around a stove her dress took fire and she was burned to death. Her mother, in attempting to put out the flames, was so badly burned that she died in a short time. The building caught fire and Mrs. Floyd was just able to escape, reaching the outside, where she fell and was found by the neighbors. She lived only long enough to relate the circumstances to them.

He Ought to Get a Life Sentence.

Philadelphia, July 16.—Joseph Connor, aged 24 years, shot Kate Conley, aged 17, through the head this morning and then put a bullet into his own head. The shooting took place at Connor's house, 2744 Kensington avenue. Connor believed Kate was about to jilt him for some one else and he urged her to marry. She refused, and he then shot both her and himself. The wounded pair were taken to the hospital. Both will probably recover.

The Pennsylvania Crops.

Washington, July 16.—The second weekly crop report of Professor Willis J. Moore, the new chief of the weather bureau, gives the results for Pennsylvania as follows:

Pennsylvania—Both harvesting and haying well advanced; oats improved; corn, potatoes and truck doing well.

"Pills, pills, pills!
There's nothing like pills
When you are bilious
To cure your ills!"

The poet is right; and he might have truthfully added, that of all pills Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the safest and best. They are sugar-coated, small and easy to take, and produce no griping or nausea, but do their appointed work quietly, pleasantly and thoroughly. The only sure cure for habitual constipation. 7-18-1t.

BAIT FOR GUDGEONS.

How Senator Quay is Holding Out the Bait of Office to Win Adherents.

The price for proxies as delegate to the Republican State Convention is rising rapidly. The anti-Hastings emissaries are going into all the counties where delegates favorable to the Governor and Col. Gilkeson have been elected and endeavoring to secure proxies for men who will do Senator Quay's bidding. It is needless to recite the arguments that are endeavored to be used. All who are in any way familiar with the methods used by the men who are carrying on the anti-Hastings campaign knows well what they are.

There is another argument that is being used as a bait for gudgeons. The Democratic Philadelphia Times, Senator Quay's personal organ and the bitter enemy of the Republican party, published ten days or so a flaming display from Washington telling a great fairy story of the offices Senator Quay would have in his gift under the next Republican National Administration. This article was hawked by Senator Quay's personal representatives through newspaper offices all over the State, offering almost any terms for its republication. Later appeared another article in the same Quay organ giving a detailed list of offices and salaries, clear down to janitorships, all of which Senator Quay will have the disposing of. This is being sent all over the State by the Quay literary bureau on boiler plate, in the hope that aspiring patriots will see that their only chance for office and emoluments lies in adhering to the Senator's fortunes.

But none of these efforts can stay the waning tide of Quayism. This is the people's fight, not the fight of the office-seeker.

Held for a Further Hearing.

This mornings' Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin says that Edward Hannahan, Jas. O'Neill and George Null were brought here on Wednesday by Constable Garis, of Centre county, and taken before United States Commissioner B. S. Bentley. They were charged with having broken into the building at Roland, that county, occupied in part as a postoffice, on June 19th, and stealing $38.78 worth of postage stamps. They also stole some money from the cash drawer in the store, but that is a matter the United States has nothing to do with. Commissioner Bentley placed the three under $500 bail each for a hearing next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time United States District Attorney Hall will assume charge of the prosecution. In default of bail the defendants were committed to jail.

The Campaign of Assassination.

Senator Quay in his wail of woe to Ex-Senator Davies, of Bradford County, calls this "a campaign of assassination." That is just what it is, and Mr. Quay is filling the title role. No man who has ever been his friend, but who now is exercising independence of thought, is free from his attacks. David Martin, C. L. Magee, Senator Flinn and any other man who is opposing him is the subject of vituperation. He overlooks his chief Lieutenant William H. Andrews, who was repudiated by the Republican party as State Chairman. He is his chief adviser; the man who fought and lost Senator Quay's battle for George Wallace Delamater. Mr. Andrews is now fighting and losing his last battle for Matthew Stanley Quay.

State Officers to be Elected.

At the elections this fall the following are the State officers to be elected:

State Treasurer, term three years, to succeed Samuel M. Jackson, Republican.

Also seven judges of the Superior Court, term ten years, a court recently created by the Legislature and filled by Governor Hastings by the appointment of Judges James A. Beaver, John J. Wickham, E. N. Willard, George B. Orlady, Charles E. Rice, Howard J. Reeder, Republicans; Henry J. McCarthy, Democrat. The law provides that one member of the court shall be a member of the minority party, no voter in the State being permitted to vote for more than six of the seven judges.

Busy at the Altoona Shops.

The Altoona shops are reported to be unusually busy in building new locomotives and also on rebuilding work. Within a few days five class P engines to be used on the heavy trains on the New York division, between Jersey City and Philadelphia, have been turned out. A number of old style class P engines and class R freight engines are undergoing extensive repairs. The shops have ahead of them orders for a number of heavy fast freight engines for the Panhandle and Fort Wayne roads.

KILLED THREE PERSONS.

The Opinion Entertained by Superintendent of Police Linden.

Philadelphia, July 16.—Superintendent of Police Linden stated to-day that he had not heard from Detective Geyer as to the finding of the bodies of the two Pitzel girls in Toronto. Superintendent Linden is impressed with the belief that Holmes is a triple murderer and said: "That man Holmes is the most infernal liar I have ever been brought in contact with. Holmes persisted in claiming that Minnie Williams had possession of the Pitzel children, and he was so much in earnest with this statement that I placed confidence in it, and caused every clue in that direction to be worked out to its fullest limit. I have not learned of the whereabouts of the woman and almost believe her to be a myth."

"In your opinion you think that Pitzel was murdered?" was asked.

"I certainly do, and further think that all talk of a dummy substitute is bosh."

"What is your theory of the disappearance of the children?"

"I think they, too, were murdered. The motive is plain when we look at the facts surrounding the case. The elder of the two girls identified the body in the cemetery as that of her father, and upon her testimony rested the chance of convicting Holmes. His willingness to plead guilty to the charge of conspiracy led us to think that something must be back of the case."

District Attorney Graham seemed to be displeased that the finding of the bodies should have been given so much publicity. "Holmes now knows as much about the case as we do," he said, "for he is given the papers every morning." Mr. Graham declines to discuss the features of the case, and was not prepared to say how he would act in case the Canada authorities demand Holmes on the charge of murder.

NOT A RURAL ROOSTER.

Senator Quay's Attempt to Close the Eye of the Country Voter.

Senator Quay is making a frantic effort to line up the agricultural interests against the city interests, so called. He is doing all in his power, both personally and through the limited influence of some small friends to create an antagonism between country and city that should not inhere. There is not nor can there be any such antagonism. Interests in each particular are identical and the sensible voter in the country districts must look to it that his interests shall not be sacrificed to advance the selfish personal schemes of Senator Quay. It is he alone who is attempting to demark between city and country. He is out of it in the city and is trying to get a country foo hold upon the plea of his devotion to agricultural advancement, but as an individual and as a Senator.

As an individual he has no history to back his claim as a Senator he has done so little as to give no color to his claim. Even his distribution of his share of seeds has been indifferently made and in no instance has a solitary plan of his for agricultura improvement been made public. The rural communities may search Congressional records in vain for any instance of Senator Quay's work in their behalf. It is also a matter of fact that in a quarter of a century Senator Quay has consistently used the city influence behind him to down the country and ninety-nine times out of a hundred he has succeeded.

A Teamster's Rough Experience.

Wellsboro Gazette: William Mays, a teamster employed on a lumber job near Blackwells, had a thrilling escape from an awful death a few days ago. He was driving a load of bark with two horses attached along the edge of a chasm 300 feet deep when the roadbed gave way. Mays, the team and wagon were precipitated over the edge. Mays lodged in the top of a hemlock tree. A moment later a rolling boulder struck him and knocked him senseless into the abyss. Fortunately he again lodged, this time in the deep crevice of a rock, where he was found unconscious by rescuers. Both horses were killed and the wagon was broken to kindling wood.

Will Pay Dollar for Dollar.

Hollidaysburg, July 15.—The Blair county court this afternoon discharged Samuel P. Langdon, of Philadelphia, and Frank G. Patterson, of Altoona, the two receivers of the Altoona, Clearfield and Northern Railroad Company, and directed the transfer of the franchises and rolling stock to the Board of Directors of the corporation. This company has been in the hands of a receiver for three years past. New stock has been subscribed and the concern will now pay its indebtedness dollar for dollar.

A recent issue of the Tionesta Vindicator said: A shower of small toads came down with the rain in the vicinity of the railroad depot on Thursday evening last. A similar occurrence is also reported at several points on Tionesta creek.

SILVER IN ENGLAND.

Failure of the Single Gold Standard to Secure Prosperity.

The Bi-metallic League of England has addressed the following memorial to the Chancellor of the Exchequer against the further continuance of the single gold standard money. The signatures to the memorial indicate the strength of the bi-metallic movement in Great Britain

To the Right Honorable the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

SIR—The Executive Council of the Bi-metallic League, observing that a memorial has been presented to you by certain merchants and bankers in the city of London in reference to the discussion which has lately taken place in Parliament on the question of the currency, beg leave to address you on the same subject.

"Differing altogether from these memorialists in the views which they express, we rejoice at that which they justly describe as "the growing agitation in favor of what is called Bi-metallism," for the following reasons, which we have the honor to submit:

"It is true that our present system of currency has prevailed in the United Kingdom from 1816, without intermission, up to now. But we think it is misleading to assert as the memorialists allege, that it was under the operation of that system that "the commercial supremacy of Great Britain and the financial ascendency of London have been established and maintained."

"Those results were achieved before the adoption of the gold standard in this country. It must also be remembered that during the chief part of that period, for nearly sixty years after 1816, all the business in this country and the world was conducted under the dominating influence of the bi-metallic system.

"So long as that system was maintained by the action of foreign countries there was little if any fluctuation or divergence in the relative value of gold and silver; the parity between the two metals, for all practical purposes, was steadily maintained; the standard of value was comparatively staple, and the commerce of this country was conducted with equal facility, whether with gold or silver using countries, in all parts of the world

"These results were of incalculable importance to a country such as ours, pre-eminent in commerce and endowed with vast colonial and Indian possessions.

"We acknowledge that so long as those conditions were maintained the gold standard sufficiently supplied our needs. But the experience of recent years has entirely convinced us that these important results were due, not to the operations of our single standard, but to the universal effect of the bi-metallic law.

"We are confirmed in this opinion by the fact that with the abandonment of bi-metallism the immense advantages we have referred to have entirely dissappeared.

"Since that event occured and silver was dethroned an attempt has been made for the first time in history to conduct the business of the Western world upon a gold basis alone.

"This novel and great experiment has been followed by its natural results—a wide and increasing divergence, with constant fluctuations, in the value of the precious metals, which have hindered and embarrassed trade; and a progressive fall in prices, which has been seriously injurious to industrial undertakings.

"Under this experiment, it cannot be denied, that we have been liable to all the evils which were indicated in the resolution accepted by the Government and unanimously passed by the House of Commons; or in that, some of the chief requirements which are expected of a standard of value, such, for instance, as stability, the single gold standard hasllamentably failed.

"Moreover, it is a fact that most of the evils which the memorialists apprehend from any change or modification in our currency, have overtaken us already, under the operation of our present system.

"Contracts have been disturbed, the burden of the debtor has been increased, property has depreciated, and enterprise has been checked, with a corresponding oss of capital embarked in industry and of employment to the working classes.

Surely these are matters of grave and serious importance, which deserve and should command attention, and yet they appear to be entirely ignored by the memorialists, and not even to have entered into their consideration.

"We think, with great respect, that in view of general and widespread depression in the textile, the coal, the iron, the shipping, and other great industries of the kingdom, with a Parliamentary Committee sitting even now to inqaire into the condition of the unemployed; and with agriculture grievously affected, and in many districts well-nigh ruined, it may be well for the memorialists to remember that it is upon the welfare of her commerce and her industries, even more than on her banking interests, that the prosperity of a country, and its people ultimately depends.

"We observe that they were not concerned to offer an opinion, so long as it was proposed to apply the bimetallic principle to foreign nations only. But the general effect of re-establishing bimetallism would be the same to us, with or without our concurrence with other nations.

"In view, however, of the vastness of our commerce, of the burden of indebtedness which is borne by our colonies in India, and of the fact that we have three distinct systems of currency within the Empire at present, we think that no people in the world is more interested in this object than ourselves, and that we ought heartily to co-operate with foreign nations in the endeavor to achieve it.

"The experience of history, the teachings of science, and the conclusions of authority as expressed in the unanimous Report of the Gold and Silver Commission unite in supporting the opinion that under the operation of this system the relative value of the metals was successfully maintained, and that under any conditions to be reasonably anticipated similar results must be expected in the future.

"The recent statements on behalf of the French Government, the resolutions of the German Reichstag and State Council, as well as of both Houses of the Prussian Diet, and the emphatic declarations of the Government of the United States in favor of international Bimetallism, are proofs of the desire on the part of France, of Germany, and the United States to join with the United Kingdom in a serious endeavor to accomplish this great end.

"None of the alarming consequences, which are foreshadowed by the memorialists, occurred under bimetallism in the past, and while experience proves that it has co-existed with a period of the greatest prosperity, no argument or reason has been hitherto adduced to warrant the assumption that these consequences would be likely to arise if it was adopted in the future.

"On the other hand, it is not denied that since the mints of foreign countries have been closed to the free coinage of silver new conditions have arisen which have seriously affected the operation of our single standard and all the business transacted by its means.

"In the presence of evils which cannot be denied we hope that her Majesty's Government will not suffer hypothetical danger to special interests, or prophetic but unsupported assertion of possible harm to industry and commerce to deter them from hearty co-operation with other powers in such measures as may seem to be desirable for securing a fixed par of exchange between the metals and a more staple standard of value than we possess at present, and we respectfully remind you of the resolution of the House of Commons on February 26 last, to which we have already referred, and to this resolution we ask you to adhere.

"In the list of our supporters are included not only merchants and bankers in the city of London, but representatives of nearly every industry in the country, besides well known leaders of the working classes, and recognized authorities on economic science, and for your information we append some representative names from among them.

"I have the honor to be, sir, on behalf of the executive Council of the Bimetallic League, your obedient servant,

HENRY HUCKS GIBBS,
"President Bimetallic League.
"June 22, 1895."

The Beech Creek Outlet.

The construction of the new Pittsburg and Eastern railroad is progressing as fast as possible and the first 18 miles of the line west of Mahaffey where it connects with the Beech Creek will soon be completed. The Clearfield Republican says on these 18 miles of road there are employed at the present time some 2,500 men with 13 locomotives, 350 cars, 20 steam derricks, 6 steam shovels and several steam pumps used for pumping the water out of the excavations made for abutments for the bridges. The contractor finds a good sized job right in the town of Mahaffey. The road leaves the Beech Creek on the eastern side of the Susquehanna river and skirts around the hill making a deep cut right through the northern part of town and utilizing one of the streets in its course. The elevation of the road in crossing the river is over 40 feet, and a fill is being made on both sides of the river for nearly a quarter of a mile. The road is to be filled in to a width of nearly 20 feet on the top and 120 feet at the base. The new road will be a western outlet for the B. C.

Don't Take Him Up.

If a fellow comes around and wants to bet you $5 that if you can tell him the last four figures of the number of a bank note he will tell you the letter of the note don't you take him up. You offer to bet him the same way and if you succeed in getting him to bet divide the figures of the note by 4. If they don't divide even and one remains the letter is A; if two remains the letter is C, and if they divide even the letter is D. If you know how to divide you will win.

ADULTERATED FOOD.

Grocers Should Become Familiar With the New Law.

All grocers in this city and throughout this commonwealth will be interested in the law prohibiting the adulteration of food. As its provisions are very stringent, we herewith publish it, so that grocers and consumers can become acquainted with it. The bill was approved by Governor Hastings, June 26, 1895. It defines "food" as meaning all articles of food or drink used by man, whether simple, mixed or compound.

Section 3 of the bill reads as follows: "An article shall be deemed to be adulterated within the meaning of this act: (a.) In the case of food: (1.) If any substance or substances have been mixed with it so as to lower or depreciate or injuriously affect its quality, strength or purity. (2.) If any inferior or cheaper substance or substances have been submitted wholly or in part for it. (3.) If any valuable or necessary constituent or ingredient has been wholly or in part abstracted from it. (4.) If it is an imitation of or is sold under the name of another article. (5.) If it consists wholly or in part of a deceased, decomposed, putrid, infected, tainted or rotten animal or vegetable substance or article, whether manufactured or not,—or in case of milk if it s the product of a diseased animal. (6. If it is colored, coated, polished or powdered, whereby damage or inferiority is concealed, or if by any means it is made to appear better or of greater value than it really is. (7.) If it contains any added substance or ingredient which is poisonous or injurious to health. Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to mixtures or compounds recognized as ordinary articles of food, if each and every package sold or offered for sale be distinctly labeled as mixtures or compounds, and are not injurious to health."

The bill requires a manufacturer or seller to furnish sample of food for analysis to any one applying for and tendering value for the same. If any one refuses to give sample he will be subject to a fine not exceeding $100 nor less than $50, or undergo imprisonment not exceeding ninety nor less than thirty days. Any one found guilty of adulterating food as specified in section 3, shall be adjudged to pay in addition to the foregoing penalties, all necessary costs and expenses incurred in inspecting and analyzing such adulterated articles. All penalties and costs are to be paid to the dairy and food commissioner or his agent, which officer shall be charged with the enforcement of the law.

Died in the West.

Many Centre county friends will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Benjamin Smeltzer, which occurred at her home in Dakota, Ill., on Tuesday morning, after three week's suffering from a paralytic stroke. The lady had been in failing health for nearly three years and came east about two years ago to visit friends. While here she was greatly recuperated and enjoyed herself at the home of ex-county Treasurer Gramley and with friends in Penns valley.

Deceased leaves a husband to mourn her death. With him she moved from this county about twenty years ago. She was a sister of Joseph and Albert Hoy, of State College; of John Hoy, of Hublersburg and of Mr. Louisa Stover, of Madisonburg. She was a zealous member of the Reformed church and her home was always a hospitable stopping place for Centre county folks traveling in the west.

Mrs. Hayes Dead.

For the last year Mrs. Hayes, of Mifflinburg, has been quite ill and had been a great sufferer. She is the mother of Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, of Bellefonte, who was summoned to her bedside on Monday. He found his mother in a dying condition and so telegraphed to her friends here. She lingered until Tuesday, when she was released of her pain and suffering. Her husband preceded her to the tomb about one year ago. Mrs. Hayes was a kind lady and had hosts of warm friends both in Mifflinburg, her home, and in Bellefonte where she visited quite frequently. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Bessie Hayes, who is well known in the social circles of Bellefonte, and Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, one of the leading physicians.

A New and Progressive Firm.

Claud Cook, of Bellefonte, and A. J. Griest, of Unionville, have formed a partnership and will operate the flouring mill at Unionville. These gentlemen have a reputation of being careful and first class business men and the new enterprise can be nothing but a success. The mill is fitted up with the best system of the roller process, and has the reputation of rolling the very best of flour. The firm of Cook & Griest will commence operation on Monday and it will be the beginning of what, it is hoped, will prove a prosperous and lucrative business.

Don't Do It, Boys.

Older boys should not make sport of a younger one in a manner to call forth from the latter the most horrible oaths and then laugh over each utterance of profanity. This is encouraging an already too fast-growing sinful vice into which smaller boys are led, thinking it sounds big if they utter shocking oaths. We are led to these remarks by an occurrence of this kind a few evenings ago—and it is not a rare thing. It is most vicious and debasing.

Jersey Shore Lad Shot.

Sunday afternoon Wesley Burkholder, aged 16, and 8-year-old Sarah Hubbard, both of near Jersey Shore, started for the cows, which animals were some distance away. The little girl found a revolver and a farmer passing at the time snapped the trigger, and there being no discharge, pronounced it empty. The little girl then began snapping the trigger and while it was pointed at Burkholder, there was a report, and the bullet struck the boy in the neck. The wound is not serious.

MANY WOMEN SUFFER

FROM LACK OF INFORMATION.

Doctors Are Too Reserved. A Woman Should Be Dealt With Openly.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Women are often allowed by their physicians to suffer much from lack of information and anxiety.

Many medical men are vain, and it is a struggle for them to acknowledge that they do not understand acase. Women do not investigate; they have faith in their doctor, and often wreck their lives through this unfortunate confidence.

In the treatment of female diseases men work from theory; and it is not to be expected that they can treat as intelligently those complaints from which they have never suffered, as a woman can who has made the organism and diseases of her sex a life study.

Women afflicted with female diseases are wise in communicating promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Their distressed condition is due to womb trouble, and their symptoms tell the story.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy that removes the cause, and restores health, courage, and happiness. The druggists sell more of it than all other female medicines. Why?

The following short letter speaks for itself. Mrs. Parker is a very young wife; only twenty-one years old. She was suffering untold misery when she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. See the result.

The Czar's Liberal Offer.

Czar Alexander III. must have experienced a shock when informed that the President of the United States could not accept a gold loan to sustain the reserve. Czars can do just as they please with the finances of Russia, negotiate loans, order expenditures and levy taxes with no one to say them nay or question their motives. Alexander was making no bluff when he offered Cleveland an accommodation of from $5,000,000 up, for he knew where to get the money. He was merely showing his truly friendly feeling toward the greatest country on earth, a friendship which Russia has always manifested for the United States.

Had the Czar requested a loan from the President he might not have been surprised at the latter's inability to supply the funds, but from a Czar's point of view it must have appeared ridiculous that the President of the United States could not accept an accommodation from a friend If the report of that negotiation be true, it illustrates at the same time the strength of Russian friendship for the country and the depth of European ignorance regarding our system of government and methods of business. Though on second thought President Cleveland seems to have discovered an authority to personally negotiate a gold loan at much less favorable terms than those offered by the monarch of Russia.

MORE GUNBOATS.

Six Vessels to be Constructed at a Cost of $230,000 Each.

Washington, July 12.—Secretary Herbert has called for proposals for the construction of six light draught composite gunboats, which congress authorized at a cost not exceeding $230,000 each, exclusive armament. Four of these vessels are to be equipped with considerable sail power in addition to steam, the other two having masts for military purposes only. The great innovation involved in these vessels as far as the American navy is concerned lies in the fact that while their frames and general construction will be of steel, their hulls are to be sheathed with wood and copper. The essential reason for this method of construction and for the erection of the type are that the vessels will be largely indepeudent of docking facilities and economical in the use of sails.

The docking expenses, whether at home or abroad, and the cost of fuel are two very serious outlays that these vessels are counted upon to minimize, while their activity, range of action and general efficiency are greatly increased.

The character of the service for which these gun boats are particularly designed requires that they be exposed to musketry fire, and the housing of the majority of the battery by an unbroken deck besides adding materially to the stiffness and strength of the vessel, gives admirable protection to the guns' crews in action. The necessarily exposed position of the bow and the stern guns is justified only by their arc of firm and possible usefulness in a running action, while for river service, for which these boats are particularly fitted, the disposition of the gun deck battery is all that could be desired.

The vessels with sail power have single screws, the steam propelled boats having twin screws and differing in many ways. The armaments, being idential in both types, will consist of six-four-inch, four six pounder and two one-pounder guns, all rapid fire.

The Nicaragua Canal.

Cincinnati, O., July 12.—A special to the Post from Greytown, Nicaragua, says that a favorable report on the Nicaragua canal will be made by the United States government commission which has been in the country for some weeks and which has carefully examined the proposed canal route and the terminal harbors on the Atlantic and Pacific coast. A slight change in the proposed route of the canal will be recommended.

The commission think that the work of constructing the canal can be completed in six or seven years, but that the total cost will considerably exceed the limit held by the projectors and that $110,000,000 will not be an excessive figure. The commission will ventilate its opinion of the former management of the canal enterprise and will present a number of severe criticism in this connection.

Died from the Results of a Pin Prick.

Bethlehem, Pa., July 10.—Rev: S. H. Philips, of Durham, aged 31 years, died to-day at St. Luke's hospital of blood poisoning. Six weeks ago Miss Cope, one of his parishioners, for a jest pricked him with a hat pin in the leg. Blood poisoning followed and to save his life the leg was amputated on Saturday, but he failed to survive the ordeal. The young woman whose thoughtlest act ended in the preacher's death is almost crazed with grief. The deceased was a graduate of Ursinus college and was a professor of mathematics there for two years. He was one of the best known Reformed clergymen in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Will be Greeted by the First Brigade

Saratoga, Pa., July 12.—Saturday evening, July 20, has been fixed upon for the public reception which is to be given to Governor Hastings at the residence of Mrs. Annie Wittemeyer, chairman of the National Woman's Relief corps, on whose farm the National Guard of Pennsylvania will tent during the annual encampment. The grounds will be handsomely lighted by the Park association and the band of the First brigade will furnish the music. There will likely be many thousands pay their respects to the governor as the public generally is invited. The reception will be held from 7.30 until 9.30 p. m.

Caught the Wrong Bird.

Centre Reporter: On last Sunday afternoon, Will Shafer, living nea H. D. Rossman's, about four miles east of here, met with a painful shooting accident which puts him minus two toes nearest the big toe of his right foot. Mr. Shafer with a gun was on the watch for a chicken hawk which had been playing thief among his hens. Thoughtlessly he rested his gun, muzzle down, on his foot, with, he says, trigger half cocked. From some to him unknown cause, the gun went off, and with it went one half the first toe and the entire second toe.

For Barefooted Children.

Children running barefooted should be careful of their feet. One of the oldest daughters of Jerome Bixler, near Millersown station, stepped on a piece of broken glass while barefooted. It was supposed merely to be a cut, and as the wound healed up nicely nothing more was thought of until a few days ago, when she complained of great pain and grew very sick. It was then discovered that a piece of broken glass had remained in her foot, and was working its way through it. She became dangerously ill a few days after and died.

THE CASINO ACCIDENT.

How the Injured of the Collapse Are Getting Along.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 12.—The condition of those injured in Wednesday night's disaster at the Elk's social gathering at the Inlet casino, is very favorable with the exception of Frederick B. Klaproth and Mrs. Francis Japha. A United Press representative called at the hospital to-day and was informed by Dr. J. J. Rochfort, who is in charge, that Klaproth's condition was hourly growing worse and he entertained but slight hopes of his recovery. Klaproth's wife is now at his bedside and is almost distracted.

"Mrs. Japha's condition," said the doctor, "is also very serious." She was feverish and restless during the night, but is now quiet and resting easily. Her left lower limb was broken in two places and her thigh bone dislocated. The physicians fear that they will have to amputate the leg just above the knee. Her health not being any too good, it is considered rather delicate to make the attempt.

J. L. Eckman, leader of the Mount Holly brass band, is doing nicely, his fractured leg having been reset.

J. M. Janson, of the Carn ross minstrel troupe, Philadelphia, although having his face all bandaged up and sewed and his right leg in splints, felt happy at the hospital to-day to think that he was not killed, He was worried much, however, because of his wife's injuries, she having suffered a compound fracture. She is a brave little woman and comforts her husband by asserting she will recover.

Past Exalter Ruler J. J. Armstrong and daughter were reported by their attending physician to be improving rapidly. Mr. Armstromg, whose head was badly bruised and ankle broken, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to a quieter hotel than the one at which he was stopping.

Antone Diemand, of Philadelphia, who suffered a fracture of the leg, is on a fair way to recovery. He is still in the hospital. S. H. Hamberger, of Philadelphia, is being nursed at the hospital, his injuries being a fractured leg.

Ready to Shed their Blood.

Winnipeg, Man., July 12.—Ten thousand Orangemen celebrated the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne here to-day. Special trains were run from all parts of Manitoba, the occasion being made a monster demonstration against Roman Catholic separate schools. At an open air meeting strong resolutions were carried with loud cheers, condemning the dominion cabinet for attempting to force parochial schools in Manitoba, despite the wishes of the people as declared in Premier Greenway's recent answer to Ottawa. The resolutions declared that Orangemen would give up their life blood if necessary as a sacrifice for their schools, which should be freed from religious interference.

Care on the Railroads.

The railroads do more for the people than the public knows. If a man has really bought a ticket and loses it he can generally finish his ride. Sickly, young and timid people are watched to see that they do not get off at the wrong stations, and last year a little boy traveled alone from New York to San Francisco. Telegrams were sent in advance by the railroad authorities to their agents along the line, and at certain points they boarded the train, saw that he was well, put him aboard the right car when changes were made at Chicago and Omaha, directed the conductors to give berths and see that he got his meals, and the little fellow reached his mother in California after a ride as unadventurous as a trip to Harlem.

Death of J. M. Kephart.

The remains of J. Matt Kephart, who died at his home in Roanoke, Va., on Thursday morning, were taken through Bellefonte Friday evening on their way to Filmore, his old home where the funeral was held on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Singer, of the M. E. church, conducted the services. Mr. Gephart was aged about 80 years and is survived by three daughters, too married and one single. His wife died about twenty years ago and the oldest daughter about three years ago.

Central R. R. of Pa. Picnics.

The parks along the line of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania are just booming with picnic parties this season, and for next week the following are announced:

Wednesday, July 17th—Bellefonte Lutheran Sunday school at Hecla Park; Lock Haven Presbyterians at Clintondale.

Thursday, July 18th—Lock Haven M. E. Sunday school at Clintondale, and all the M. E. Sunday schools of Williamsport at Hecla. Fully one thousand people are expected to come on the train from Williamsport.

Saturday, July 20th—The Nittany Valley Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Hecla Park.

Coal Will Last 800 Years.

The report of the United States geological survey is about ready to be made public. In treating on the bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania it relieves the fears of those who have been anxious about the supply of that particular fuel. Surveys and examinations of these coal beds have led the government experts to announce that at the present rate of consumption the supply will not be exhausted for 800 years to come.

NEWS BUREAU FAKE STORIES.

How Senator Quay's Penny-a-Liners are Earning Their Salaries These Days.

Philadelphia, July 9, 1895.—The Quay Press Bureau in this City is resorting to all manner of fakes and misrepresentations to further the declining cause of its chief. The latest story that it has sent broadcast, and whose publication they first secured in the Democratic newspapers of Philadelphia, relates to the Hastings Press Headquarters here in Philadelphia. It charges that two well known newspaper men, Colonel George Nox McCain, of Philadelphia, and Colonel Henry Hall, of Pittsburg, who are on the Governor's Staff, have started a campaign of secret newspaper attack on Senator Quay, and that they were discovered by being seen leaving the Philadelphia postoffice with armfuls of newspapers.

This story which has been sent out in plate matter to country newspapers is absolutely false? Its exposure can among right-minded men bring only contempt for the methods employed by the Quay Factionists. The fact is that a Newspaper Bureau in the interest of Governor Hastings has been established at No. 24 South Eighth St., Philadelphia, where an entire floor has been engaged, and a corps of typewriters and stenographers are at work. Mr. Wm. Russell, an expert stenographer, is in charge of the business end of the bureau. Colonel McCain and Colonel Hall have contributed somewhat to the literary end of the Bureau's work. There has been no concealment or evasion of this fact. As for the story of a Quay spy following those gentlemen from the postoffice, it is the silliest kind of fabrication, inasmuch as neither gentlemen have been near the bureau newspaper box, and do not even possess a key to it, the latter being in the hands of Mr. Russell, who alone is entitled to open mail matter addressed to him.

The wild-eyed story will deceive nobody, Inasmuch as the Bureau is open to the public the animus of this furore can be easily understood.

The Small Boy.

To a girl's way of thinking there is precious little room in this world for the small boy. After he walks out of the period of babyhood and grows too long-legged to be comfortably petted at home he should be stored away somewhere until he arrives at that time of life when mustache raising is his most congenial occupation. He certainly is not ornamental, with his putty-painted fingers, dusty shoes and impish tricks and teasings; he certainly is not useful except when acting as a medium through which one bothers one's dearest friend by insisting that he accompany her and her best young man on their stroll through the park. He is noisy and very troublesome, and his remarks are by no means always up to the pinnacle of elegance that young women of idealistic tastes demand. He hides behind doorways and jumps out with a loud yawp, which performance is conducive to hysterical screams and general upheavals of the nerves. His greatest happiness is bound up in the cold body of a deceased rat, which he promptly places on his sister's bureau, awaiting results like an anarchist who has just planted a dynamite bomb. And, what is worse than all other offenses, he stands on the curb stone, and whenever a pair of proud and happy bloomers go bicycling by he raises his voice so that it can be heard for six blocks and jumps around like a wild Hottentot having a fit.

The Compulsory Education Law.

The compulsory education law, as stated in the Herald several weeks ago, requires that every child in the commonwealth between the ages of 8 and 13 years shall attend for at least 16 weeks in each year a school in which the common English branches are taught. Only such children shall be exempted from these provisions as are certified by parents or guardians to be mentally or physically incapacitated, or who live two miles from a public school, or who are otherwise being instructed in the common branches and are so certified by the principal of a school. A fine of $2 is provided for the first offence of any one against the law, and $5 for each succeeding offence. An appeal to the court of quarter sessions is allowed to the negligent parents or guardians. Boards of school directors or controllers are authorized to appoint truant officers to better enforce attendance at school.

Grand Picnic and Festival.

A grand picnic and festival will be held in Scotia park, Scotia, Pa., on Saturday, August 3rd, under the auspices of Washington Camp 571 P. O. S. of A., to which the public is cordially invited. Among the attractions will be a game of base ball and several bands will be in attendance to furnish music. Refreshments of all kinds, including ice cream, cakes and candies will be served. A special invitation is extended to other P. O. S. of A. camps.

Huckleberries Galore.

It is claimed that 800 bushels of huckleberries have been picked in the mountain on the south side of Georges Valley. This may be stretched, but it is true nevertheless that the berries have been plenty in there, and the season not over yet. They are the low blue huckle berries; next come the medium height stocks, which are also full, and will ripen within ten days; then come the high ones which ripen still later.

Canada's Trouble.

The religious issue in Canada has given no end of trouble and promises now to be more important than ever before. The existing Ministry has sought a compromise, but the question of separate schools in Manitoba admits of no such treatment.

There is a very small minority of the population of Manitoba made of French Catholics who insist on separate schools to be maintained by the Government. The remainder of the people of that province refuse to support such schools even at the bidding of the Ottawa Government. The French Catholics in Quebec, whose support is necessary to the continued existence of the Conservative Ministry, demand that force shall be used to bring Manitoba to terms. That would lead to a civil war and the Ministry has hesitated to comply with the demand. Meanwhile the French representatives have threatened to vote against the Government.

Should the Conservatives be overthrown and the Liberals come into power it is doubtful if the new government could get a working majority without the support of the French, and that would only be given on condition of the establishment of separate schools in Manitoba. A Liberal Ministry could not stand a single day on such conditions. The great Protestant province of Ontario is in sympathy with Manitoba and would assist it in case force were used again, it on this question. A race war would [illegible] that would only be put down by the use of British troops.

There can be no solution of such a trouble excepting by the withdrawal of all Government aid to sectarian schools, as in the case in the United States. But Quebec insists that under treaty rights, by which French Canada was ceded to Great Britian, the French-Canadians are entitled to separate schools. A refusal to maintain them might bring France into the difficulty. The question is one that may easily light a fire that would involve the great nations in a war.

The United States can well learn a lesson from this trouble. Sooner or later Canada is likely to ask for admission into the Union. But if it come in there must be a clear understanding that no sectarian schools are to be maintained by Government aid.

Must Give Numbered Receipts.

A recent act of Assembly makes it obligatory for the county tax collector to keep a book of numbered receipts and the same must be filled out in ink. A numbered stub must also be kept, from which a report is made to the county commissioners The latter are required to furnish the collectors with the necessary books.

Next Year's Campaign Issues.

Not long ago the unlimited coinage of silver without regard to its worth as compared to gold money seemed to be the issue that would be of fully as much importance, or more, than the tariff in the campaign of next year. But it does not seem now as though that would take any place to notice in the issues of the campaign. It appears to have been settled in advance of the campaign. Every time a convention of silverites got together they failed entirely to awaken any enthusiasm for their pet theory, but on the contrary they incited greater discussion in the interest of the dollar that is worth 100 cents and there is to-day no show at all in the country at large for either a paper or silver dollar that cannot be exchanged for a gold dollar. That issue is practically out of the way. The St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" says: "Aside from silver the tariff is the only question that has been thought of as a possible issue, and this may be brought to the front. As everybody knows, however, that tariff tinkering disturbs trade, and as trade has had a surfeit of disturbance in the past two years, the Republicans will be backward about re-opening this question next year. Probably the question will figure to some extent in the canvass. It will certainly figure if the the Government's income remains short of its outgo. The bond selling device will not be continued under Republican sway what ever else happens. If the revenues continue below the expenditures the Republicans will increase them, and, of course, the greater part of such increase would have to come from the custom house. But in any event a tariff contest of the intensity and picturesqueness known in some former years need not be looked for in 1896.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, July 15, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Wonders never cease. Although Mr. Reed probably has as yet given little attention to, and has certainly not made up his mind on any particular policy to be followed when he becomes Speaker of the House, a democratic newspaper published in Washington has found out all about it and has taken the public into its confidence. If there ever was more gall displayed, even in these days of "enterprising" newspapers it has escaped your correspondent's attention, and he devotes his entire time to trying to keep up with the procession. It is unnecessary to mention the programme outlined by this knowing newspaper further than to say that it begins with the absurd statement that the republicans will be afraid to touch the tariff. That is false enough, as time will show, to stamp the whole story as a democratic office-made fake. It is the democrats who are afraid. One of the certainties of the next session of Congress is that the House will revise the tariff in a number of important particulars, and it is probable that the revision will be accepted by the Senate although that body will not have a republican majority. As Josh Billings used to say, "Tis better to be ignorant than to know so darn much that aint so."

It has leaked out that Mr. Cleveland would like to remove Ambassador Eustis for the recent indiscretions in the way of jingo speeches and newspaper interviews, but is afraid if he does so he will make Eustis the democratic candidate for president. He recognizes that however indiscreet the utterances of Mr. Eustis may have been in a diplomat his opinions have voiced the sentiments of many Americans and that his removal from office for such an offence would make him very popular. That being the case it is probable that Mr. Eustis will remain in Paris, unless he gets mad at being reprimanded and resigns, as he may do. It has been whispered ever since that London speech that Mr. Eustis has presidential aspirations.

Oh humbug! one of thy other names is certainly Hoke Smith. A New York newspaper has started a popular subscription for the benefit of Miss Elizabeth Key, grandaughter of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner," who was on the first of July dismissed without cause from the petty clerical position she had filled for fourteen years in the Pension Bureau, and her aged and invalid mother. Among the Washington contributors to this fund appears the name of Secretary Hoke Smith the man who has in his power to restore Miss Key to the position from which she was so mercilessly and cruelly dismissed with his approval, this enabling her and her crippled mother to live independently instead of having to eat the bread of charity. Mr. Hoke Smith would find it difficult to convince any unprejudiced person that any feeling accompanied his donation to the Key charity fund; it was merely a conscience contribution. If he had either feeling for the Keys or the patriotism which every American should have, he would reinstate Miss Key and save her the humiliation of accepting support for herself and mother from the newspaper charity fund donated by the public.

Agricultural Department officials cannot brush away the accusation, that speculators get advance information of the department's official crop report, by referring to them as "old stories." Old or new, it does seem strange that certain big speculators should always be able to lay their bets in the market just before those reports are issued in the way to make money and to make it appear to other people that they were acting upon actual know edge. Perhaps these speculators only guess, but it seems a little odd that they should always guess right, while others just as intelligent continue to guess wrong right along.

Members of the administration are having a difficult task to reconcile the promise that a democratic tariff would open the markets of the world to the producers and manufacturers of the United States with the cold, hard, figures contained in the official's report of the Bureau of Statistics—figures compiled by democratic officials. During the eleven months ending May 31, 1895, exports from the United States fell off, as compared with the same period ending May 31, 1894, when the McKinley law was in force, nearly $75,000,000 in value—to be exact, the exportations for eleven months under the McKinley tariff amounted to $813,547,866, while the exportations for the same period under the democratic tariff amounted only to $739,651,865. These are the sort of facts which have convinced those who control the great business interests of the country that it is not safe to have the democratic party in control of the national government, and which will not soon be forgotten, but will stand like a stone wall over which the democratic party cannot hope to get during the life of the present generation.

Alfred A. Dale, of Bellefonte, and Victor Gray, of Philipsburg, are candidates for delegates to the State Convention to be elected (if the people so will it) at the County Convention, which meets at Bellefonte next Tuesday, July 23. The men are friends of M. S. Quay, and if elected will support his candidacy for chairman of the State committee. Mr. Dale's announcement as a candidate can be found in another column.

FASHIONS AT SARATOGA.

Morning Gowns: Grass Linen And Butter Lace: Collarettes Driving Costumes: Capes

A complete subservience to Fashion, or an equal independence regarding it, often bring about very amusing contrasts in dress; such as are seen nowhere else in America, and this daily panorama constitutes one of the principal attractions of Saratoga. Persons who court notoriety, find in the hotel piazzas or dining rooms, an even fresh opportunity for the display of elegant costumes or jewelry; usually however, people of high refinement, shrink from anything like conspicuous attire. Breakfast hours show the greatest variety of costumes, as those who have an outdoor excursion in view, wear pique, linen, serge or duck "tailor made" suits; or the still popular black crepon or brilliantine skirts, with cambric, silk or any fancy waist; while those who intend lounging for an hour or two (particularly the nouveaux riches) often wear superb crepon or silk morning gowns,—marvels of beauty; the wavy irregularities of silky, light-hued crepon, reminding one of fleecy, sunset clouds.

THESE LOVELY TOILETS

are trimmed with silk crape or fine lace, and being lined with silk, the effect is as soft and harmonious as a tinted sea-shell. Handsome silks are worn in the morning, with equally rich hats and parasols, and as elbow sleeves are very fashionable, long, light-colored gloves follow as a matter of course—imparting a very dressy appearance. Grass linen (or linen batiste) and narrow "button" lace are a combination which has spread like "wild-fire," and although a plain and inexpensive fabric, when the perforated varieties are made up over silk, it becomes a different matter Plain grass linen is just as stylish as the perforated, and waists, collarettes or front are seen everywhere, and fifteen lengthwise rows of "butter" lace on a sleeve (in three clusters) is not an exaggeration.

LARGE COLLARETTES

or plain are perforated grass linen, edged with embroidery, are stylish with any costume, and small embroidered batiste collars and cuffs are worn to an unlimited extent. The neutral tint of grass linen is extremely trying, colored satin ribbon stock collars obviate that difficulty to a certain extent, and a pure white linen batiste collarette, often ornaments a grass linen waist, both lavishly trimmed with narrow "butter" lace. Exquisitely fine white nainsook, Swiss muslin or white linen batiste embroidered yokes afford a pretty contrast to grass linen, being used in much the same way, and just now, artificial flowers are very generally worn on collars, capes, dresses or parasols, and the sweet fragrance of Murray & Lanman's Florida water, is in thorough harmony, naturally conveying the impression that they belong to Nature rather than art.

MOHAIR

in varied colors, is very stylish this season for driving costumes, or taffeta silk costumes trimmed with colored velvet, or satin ribbon or lace, are noticeably popular, for afternoon, in which case, on change of dress for dinner or evening is necessary. White parasols give their peculiar finish to all costumes; therefore they are in the majority on the verandahs or on afternoon excursions, and ostrich feathers on large Leghorns are in keeping, imparting an air of elegance, which is not attained by any other millinery garniture.

LADIES CLOTH

in very pale shades, lined with plaided silk, is the favored material for driving capes, as it sheds the dust and at the same time, is soft and clinging. For cool evening, colored velvet capes, almost covered with white lace present a very dashing appearance, or white or colored satin capes are similarly trimmed with jetted or plain lace. The newest capes in Saratoga, are two of black Marquise lace, sent direct from Paris, for two society bells, and are full around the lower part, and longer than any of the stylish Spring or Summer capes.

VERONA CLARK.

Judge White's Precedent.

Judge White has nearly abolished the grand jury without appeal to the legislative powers of the Government. He has also set a precedent that will save the county a vast amount of money by avoiding the costs incident to criminal prosecution in the courts. This is made evident by the decision of nearly all the prisoners in the county jail to plead guilty and trust to the mercy of the Court.

If "an open confession is good for the soul," the twenty-three culprits who have decided to plead guilty ought to feel better. They may do some good for themselves as well as effect some saving to the taxpayers. Their crimes are not very serious in the eyes of the law, anyway, and, all things considered, it is matter for congratulation that they have concluded to save time and trouble by trying their own cases before their individual consciences.

There is one class that is not likely to appreciate Judge White's new departure. That is the lawyers. If all the criminals plead guilty without indictment there will be mighty little for the legal gentlemen to do. If the county treasury waxes fat from avoidance of criminal costs their bank accounts will grow lean from the absence of fees for defense.

Half the fun of life is lost by many people through their neglect of one of Nature's most rigid laws. Nature insists on regularity. People who allow the continuance of any irregularity in their digestive organs soon have to pay the penalty. Free and regular movement of the bowels is the surest sign of good health.

The first question the doctor asks is: "Are your bowels regular?" If not, he gives something to make them so and quite often that is all he needs to do.

Assist Nature occasionally in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels and you need never be very sick. Remember that assistance don't mean violence. What is needed is a gentle but efficient helper that will work so easily and so naturally that there will be no shock to the system.

Of all the remedies that have been prepared, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets best fill all the requirements. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. One is a laxative—two a mild cathartic. They cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, distress after eating, sour stomach, "heart-burn," dizziness, foul breath and all disorders due to imperfect digestion. Each little vial holds from forty-two to forty-four Pellets, and sells at the same price as the more common and cheaper made pills. A free sample package (4 to 7 doses) will be sent on request. Once used, they are always in favor. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

The Atlanta Exposition.

Governor Hastings has issued a proclamation wisely inviting the people of Pennsylvania to contribute to a proper display at the Atlanta Exposition of the industries of the state. The exposition opens on September 18 and closes December 31. As already shown the exposition will excel anything of the kind in this country excepting the Centennial Exposition of 1876 and the World's Fair in Chicago.

Much less money will be expended in preparations at Atlanta, and yet its buildings and grounds will compare favorably though on a reduced scale, with those of previous expositions. A great deal more can be done now for the same money than was the case a few years ago. Besides, Atlanta has the advantage of cheap labor, and, without charge, of the convict labor of the state. Hence for an expenditure of about $2,000,000 it will have buildings and grounds alone worth a journey to Atlanta. The city is a marvel of modern growth, having been entirely rebuilt since the war. It is in that respect a small sized reproduction of Chicago. Its business men are full of energy, its climate genial and its people as hospitable as any other city in the Union.

Under such circumstances the exposition is sure to be a success, and the people of Pennsylvania will make a great mistake if they fail to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to exhibit their wares and call attention to the resources of the state. All such expositions are of great value to the entire country. Hence they deserve every encouragement.

The Keystone of the Arch.

In the edifice of health is vigor, which means not merely muscular energy, but an active discharge of the various functions of the body, such as digestion, secretion of the bile, the action of the bowels, the circulation of the blood. Nothing more actively and thoroughly contributes to the united performance of these functions than the renowned tonic and regulator, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The result of its use is a speedy gain in strength, together with the agreeable consciousness that the tenure of life is being strengthened—that one is laying up a store of vitality against the unavoidable draughts which old age makes upon the system. The fortifying influence of the Bitters constitute it a reliable safeguard against malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble. Appetite and sleep improve through its use, and it protects the system from the effects of cold and damp. 7-18-3t

Bicycles Will Be Cheaper.

An exchange says the time is coming and not far distant, so rumor goes—when the bicycle that now costs $100 can be bought next summer for $50 or $60. A report has been in circulation for some time to the effect that a syndicate is being formed for the purpose of putting on the market on or before April 1, 1896, 400,000 bicycles, which are to be made at $18 a piece and sold as low as $30. This bicycle is to be as good, for all ordinary purposes, as the $100 wheel of to-day, and it is supposed it will lead in the cutting of prices.

An Incomplete House.

We run wild over the furnishings of a house; its furniture, carpets, hangings, pictures and music, and always forget or neglect the most important requisite. Something there should always be on the shelf to provide against casualties or attacks of pain. Such come like a thief in the night; a sprain, strain, sudden backache toothache or neuralgic attack. There is nothing easier to get than a bottle of St. Jacob's Oil, and nothing surer to cure quickly any form of pain. The house is incomplete without it. Complete it with a good supply.

A Recipe for Happiness.

Miss Maggie Jackson, of Barbreck, St. Landry Parish, La., says: "I was lying sick for some time with female complaints and all the medicine my friends gave me did me no good. Death was approaching; all my friends had given me up to die. I heard of your wonderful medicine, and I bought two bottles of it, and before I had taken the last, I got entirely well. I am still enjoying good health, and expect to praise your medicine every where I go." 7-18-1t

—The editor of a Georgia paper speaks as if he has had experience. "Editing a newspaper is a funny business. For instance, if you give a fellow a 'nice notice he never sees it, and, so far as showing his appreciation, he probably 'never hears tell of it.' But just say something 'agin 'im' and he will pursue you worse than the Sheriff. A fellow who don't care much about eating can have a picnic running a newspaper."

Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke is an enthusiastic fisherman, and in an article that he has written for the August Century he tells the readers that he was 'born so.' His article on "Old Fashioned Fishing" is full of personal reminiscences, but it echos the experience of all who follow the streams during the vacation days.

QUAY'S REVENGE.

Will the Republican Party Permit Him to Wreak It on Col. Gilkeson?

Senator Quay is making the fight of his life. This fact is admitted by his most intimate friends. It is a losing fight too, because however much the newspapers which are favorable to his interests gloss over the facts, behind it all is the sad reality that Republicans are not flocking to his standard as they once did.

The thinking men of the Republican party realized that Senator Quay has been ill advised; that William H. Andrews, is the power behind the throne, and that Frank Willing Leach is his principal advisor. No two men more unpopular in political work than these could be found, and Senator Quay is realizing this fact.

On the other hand Chairman Gilkeson has led the party to splendid victory on two occasions. There is no stain attached to his record. He is a clean cut man and the fight to-day resolves itself into a battle against the State Chairman. The question is, will the Republican party permit him to be summarily ousted because Senator Quay demands his removal to gratify personal revenge.

Know Thyself.

How important this injunction to every young man! How many ruin their health and future happiness through pernicious practices contracted in ignorance, and repented of when too late. Parents, guardians and humanitarians can do no better service to the rising generation than to place in their hands the information and warnings contained in a little book carefully prepared by an Association of medical gentlemen, who have had vast experience in dealing with the grave maladies here hinted at, and who feel that they owe it to humanity to warn the young of the land against certain destructive habits which are far more prevalent than the layman can possibly imagine, and which, if persisted in, gradually undermine the constitution and health and destroy the future happiness of the victim. Cut out this notice and enclose it with ten cents in stamps (to pay postage) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and the book will be sent, secure from observation in plain sealed envelope. 7-18-1t

Beware of Political "Last Cards."

The following act, which was approved on the 26th of June last, interests politicians and aspirants for office:

"That whoever writes, prints, posts or distributes, or causes to be written, printed, posted or distributed, a circular or poster cartoon or other written or printed paper, which is designed or tends to injure or defeat any candidate for nomination or election to public office by reflecting upon his personal character or political actions, unless the same shall be published in a newspaper avowedly responsible therefor, or unless there appears upon such circular, poster or paper, in a conspicuous place, either the names of the Chairman and Secretary, or at least the names of two officers of the political or other organization issuing the same, or the name of some duly registered elector, with description of his election district, as responsible therefor, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding six months, or both; and, if the statements are untrue, the person so offending shall also be deemed guilt of libel, and may be prosecuted in the civil or criminal courts."

ALL SELF-MADE MEN.

None of Them Trace Their Political Paternity to Quay.

"The desertion of the men that Senator Quay has made" is the pathetic as well as the picturesque point in the Senator's plea for "Defense from his friends." Not one of the men who are prominent in this popular move may trace his political origin to the hand or head of Colonel Quay. From Magee to Martin and from Warwick to Flinn, every man of them, was a full-fledged, well-developed politician before the Senator deigned even to notice them. Quay's scheme has been to adopt and appropriate, not to create people. He has always regarded the machine not the man. Pennsylvania people and politicians have come to the conclusion now and hereafter to do business as individuals. The monarchical idea does not find congenial soil in Pennsylvania.

A Lesson in Finance.

In managing the finances and regulating its currency the United States Government may learn much from the Government of France.

The Bank of France became a Government institution in 1843, and has remained so ever since. It has power to issue bills of credit to the extent of $4,000,000,000 francs. A franc on exchange is equal to about 19.3 cents of our money. The bank furnishes a paper circulation of about 3,488,000,000 francs.

This paper currency amounts when the bank has issued to its full capacity, to about $21 to each person in the republic of France. To redeem this paper issue of currency there is held in the bank a metallic reserve of gold and silver to the amount of 3,000,000,000 francs. The bank redeems its notes with either gold or silver, at its option.

Not only does the bank of France exercise the option of redeeming its circulating notes in either gold or silver coin at its pleasure, but it carries the option to the extent of always paying silver coin to those persons who are threatening to take the coin abroad, when such a course will best subserve the financial business interests of France. That bank also, out of its gold and silver coin reserve, redeems its notes ordinarily in that coin—either gold or silver—of which it has the largest amount.

The United States now has in its treasury and in circulation over $1,000,000,000 of paper currency of six different kinds, consisting of gold certificates, silver certificates, treasury notes under act of 1890, currency certificates under act of June, 1872, United States notes, commonly called greenbacks, and national bank notes. Looking at the face of this paper currency it plainly appears that the intent of Congress was that at least a part of it should be redeemable in silver coin. But under the rulings of the Secretary of the Treasury it is redeemable in gold coin only when ever the owner calls for it.

Thus every advantage and option is given to the creditors of our Government instead of being exercised by the Secretary of the Treasury. It has been often urged by high authorities on finance that all our paper currency should be of one kind of money and redeemable by the Secretary of the Treasury at his option in either gold or silver coin, according as payment in the one coin or the other would best subserve the stability of our financial system. The example of the Bank of France, which is practically the treasury of the French republic, sustains that view of the matter.

The French republic is not over five times as large in area as our one state of Ohio. It was impoverished twenty-four years ago by paying an indemnity of one billion dollars to the German Government. It has only two-thirds as large a population as the United States, and only two-thirds as much estimated wealth. Yet it is easily able to carry along on a parity $700,000,000 of silver, $800,000,000 in gold and nearly $700,000,000 in paper currency, redeemable in either gold or silver coin at option of the government.

Why cannot the United States, standing in strength and power the superior of any nation in the world, do the same thing? If it had statesmen at its helm with the courage of its resources it could and would.

The Social Economist for July opens with an argument by Abraham Lincoln in favor of a Bank of the United States against a Sub-Treasury, made in the course of a debate at Springfield, Ill., in 1839, and since that date now first published. It had escaped the knowledge of all of Lincoln's numerous biographers. It shows that Lincoln was as attentive to financial and administrative problems as to slavery and other economic and sentimental issues. It is of special value at a time when the Government finds itself compelled to employ foreign bankers to keep gold in the Federal Treasury. It shows that Mr. Lincoln was firmly convinced that a Government bank was essential to a "Sound money" policy for reasons which are permanent and in full force to-day.

QUAY'S RESOURCES.

Backed by all the Moneyed Interests in and Out of Pennsylvania.

Senator Quay's complaint that money will likely beat him this time is in the line of his bluff that he will have seventy-nine majority in the August Convention. A man who has the Sugar Trust, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers an infinity of corporations, the Oil Trust and a few friends whose resources aggregate millions, is not liable to be short in the crisis of his existence. One and another of these crises have come upon him, some have been tided over by invoking only the millionaires, occasionally only one of them, others have come when the entire outfit has been razeed. This time the crisis has been out of all proportion to its predecessors and a general alarm has been sent out. On the occasion of the recent visit to Lackawanna and Luzerne counties a trifle of $5,000 was left in these counties. If this is kept up (and the contributors who are acquainted with Mr. Quay know it will be) and the average is maintained it will cost them through their disbursing agent (the Senator) not less than $200,000, on account of county exactions alone. Then there will be fully that much more required for incidentals. In addition there will be the charges on account of the maintenance of Robison and Leach and that Prince of political luxuries, Andrews. These charges will strain the credit of the Senator with his entire outfit of backers. It does look as if the present "crisis" is to cost a cool half million. Either the contributors will hereafter do without the Senator or that individual will be compelled to vaccinate himself against future attacks of "Fights of his Life-time" and "Crises of his Existence."

WEATHER PREDICTIONS.

Foster Tells When We May Expect a Storm Wave to Cross the Continent.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 18th to the 23d, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 23d, cross the west of Rockies country by the close of the 24th, the great central valleys the 25th to 27th, the eastern states on the 28th.

During and immediately preceding this disturbance will occur the hottest period of the month, accompanied by indications of drought. The drought in Florida and the southeastern states will increase, and northwest of St. Louis, in the direction of Manitoba, moisture will be deficient.

A warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 23d, the great central valleys the 25th and eastern states the 27th. Cool waves will cross the west of Rockies country about the 26th, great central valleys 28th and eastern states 30th. This cool wave will probably cause light frosts along the northern borders of the United States, keeping up the record as a most remarkable crop season.

July and August rains will probably put rolling lands in good condition for plowing, preparatory for sowing winter wheat, but soils that hold water longer than the average will probably be too wet.

In the great central valleys heavy rains will fall in September and the plowing should be completed as early as possible, not only for the reason mentioned above, but also because of the severe winter to follow.

In the northern portion of the winter wheat belt sowing should be completed early in September, in the south a month later, and the plowing should be completed long enough before to give the soil time for becoming packed, so that the wheat plants may have a solid bed instead of a loose ash bank in which to germinate.

The roller should be thoroughly used. For the coming hard winter the plant might be better prepared by a second rolling after the wheat has covered the ground with its green. In many places rains will have washed the soil from the roots and left an even surface, inviting the work of the winds and for this the roller is a good remedy.

The weather will favor the above suggestions, as October is expected to be warm in the winter wheat country, and the preparations will be necessary in view of the severe December weather to follow.

Local Physicians Puzzled.

South Petersburg, N. Y.,—For two months Melvin Church of this town was confined to his bed, suffering with lumbago, rheumatism and kidney complaint. The regular treatment was prescribed by his physicians without benefit. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was then used with the most satisfactory results.

In speaking about his case Mr. Church said: "After taking about two-thirds of a bottle, I began to get relief, and when I had taken three bottles, I was well and strong."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will build up a person suffering from debility quicker and better than any preparation known. For dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia and rheumatism, it has again and again succeeded where everything else has failed. 7-18

Judgment in the Matter of Rubbish

In cleaning out the rubbish, whether for moving or spring cleaning, great judgment is required. It is easy to throw away clothes which are shabby and need considerable mending, or to thrust such gifts upon the poor, who have no means of keeping them until they are seasonable. One busy mother makes it a rule to keep a drawer in her house for leisure mending; that is, for garments which require so much that she cannot attend to them except when the other work does not press. Often this drawer provides something which will just finish out the season, or of other times it helps to fill a call for old clothes when just such as she has are wanted.

It is well to sort rubbish when children are not present, but where there is a play room bright bits may be saved and put by themselves, and will often give more pleasure than regulation toys. Be careful not to break childish hearts by throwing away dolls and blocks which no money can replace. The delight of children in the excitement of moving may be utilized by the wise mother. Little hands and little feet save older ones if properly directed, and the importance of being useful keeps children out of mischief.

The Adulteration of Milk.

An act passed at the last session of the Legislature of this State provides punishment for the adulteration of milk offered for sale. The act prohibits the sale of milk for human consumption to which has been added boracic acid, salt boracic acid, salycilic acid, salicylate of soda, or any other acid drug, compound or substance, and provides that the use of such drugs shall be a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or an imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both, or either, at the discretion of the Court.

All Over the State.

The Millersville Normal School graduated a class of over a hundred at the end of this term.

Lancaster city councils refuse to give the police a vacation with pay, claiming that they have no legal right to do so.

The Harrisburg Traction company is experimenting with fenders, and when it gets one that will fend it will be adopted.

The wheat harvest in Eastern Pennsylvania is about at an end, the greater portion, if not all, of the best of the crop being now cut.

A big demonstration and flag raising will take place in Lebanon on Labor Day under the auspices of the order of United American Mechanics.

By holding a cannon cracker too long on the Fourth, Samuel Drexler, of Carlise, lost one hand and had the other hand and his stomach injured.

Blanche Lewis, of Williamsport, aged 8 years, was so badly burned by her clothing taking fire from exploding firecrackers that her death resulted.

A farm in Fulton county, near the borough of McConnellsburg, owned by a Mr. Jones, yielded 140 dozen sheaves of wheat to the acre, cut last week.

The Cumberland Valley Sunday school assembly opens at Williams Grove on July 24 and will be one of the most interesting gatherings of the present year.

Bishop McGovern will be tendered a reception by the members of St. Patrick's pro-cathedral, Harrisburg, on his return from Rome. Other Catholic congregations will be invited to participate.

Margaret Kirkpatrick, the 19-month's old daughter of John H. Kirkpatrick, of the North Side, Pittsburg, died on Sunday from the effects of attempting to swallow a piece of the skin of a peanut.

The Children's Aid Society of Franklin county has rented the Brallier property, on South Main Street, Chambersburg, and will take possession on August 1. It will be arranged and opened as a hospital for the public on September 1.

The annnal reunion of the Survivors' association of the Twentieth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteer cavalry, will be held at the Belmont mansion in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, Saturday, July 20. There will be a banquet in the evening.

The Carlisle Sentinel says: "At Mt. Holly, Thursday, a pupil of the Carlisle Indian school was sitting on the fence watching the game of base ball, when a foul ball struck him in the face. He said nothing, but went to a doctor's office and had his injuries attended to. He went back and watched the game, and when asked what was wrong with his face told them the doctor said his jaw was broken."

"Too Hot to Eat"

is a feeling that, if yielded to, has serious results. Strength should be maintained in order to overcome the debilitating effects of summer.

Bovinine

being the greatest concentration in small bulk of the vital elements of lean, raw meat, is pre-eminently the source from whence nourishment should be obtained, at a time when the least effort should be demanded of the digestive organs.

DON'T THINK YOU KNOW IT ALL

But Take Heed to the Words Spoken for Your Own "Safety."

Since Philipsburg has an unusual number of novices among the local wheelmen this season, and especially as it is the season when an unusual number of the gentler gender are learning the art of managing a wheel, the Journal believes it can devote a little space to no better service than to the reproduction of the following hints from Harper's Round Table :

1. A good bicyclist is careful of his roads, therefore when taking a header be careful not to hit the road to hard with your forehead. You might make a dint in the pavement.

2. In falling off your wheel don't fall on both sides at once. Failure to observe this rule will result in dividing you against yourself.

2. Always be courteous. If a trolly car has the right of way over a track do not dispute with it. A boy in Massachusetts who broke this rule broke his arm and his cyclometer at the same time.

4. Keep your lamp lit while riding at night. The boy who thought he was safe because he had a parlor match in his pocket came home with a spoke in his wheel that didn't belong there.

5. Do not be rough with the ice carts and furniture trucks. If you must run into one of them do it as gently and tenderly as if it was a baby carriage.

6. A merciful rider is merciful to his wheel, so do not force a bicycle beyond its endurance, unless you want to walk back with your wheel on your shoulders.

7. Keep cool. If in the course of a ride you find yourself in a tight place, with a skittish horse on the left and a deep ravine on your right and a bull dog directly in front, take to the ravine. You will go in it anyhow, if you take it without dragging the dog or the horse after you your chances will be improved.

8. Never use spurs on the pneumatic tires of your wheel. The use of spurs in this manner is likely to leave your bicycle in a winded condition.

9. Do not be stubborn with a balky wheel If the front wheel gets in a rut going east, and the hind one in another going west, dismount and argue the matter standing, unless you are tired, and want to lay down by the roadside unassisted.

Colorado announces plans for holding the first genuine bull fight on Yankee soil, arrangements having been made for a complete Mexican outfit. Colorado is much pleased with itself, and is enjoying itself hugely in anticipation of the fun it will have with the bulls. As the pursuit of happiness is an inalienable right. Colorado is entitled to all the pleasures it can get out of this anticipation, for it may be another case like that of the man who was made famous by similar hilarity over the fun he was going to have with a cross bull, and who, after he had been tossed over the fence by the infuriated animal, was glad he took his laugh first. Some years ago Bradford, Pa., arranged a bull and bear fight, and rejoiced. But when the event came off the officers of the law and agents of the Humane Society got the animals, and would have secured the audience had not inglorious and precipitate retreat prevented.

THE CORRECT WAY TO SPELL.

Many Changes by the National Board on Geographic Names.

The United States board of geographic names has adjourned until September 1, when it will have completed the first five years of existence. During this time it has settled innumerable disputed points. The duty of this board is to settle the proper spelling of geographical names, and its authority is derived from an executive order promulgated by President Harrison, in which the personnel of the board was named and its duties defined, and all the officials were enjoined to follow the spelling of geographical names as prescribed by that bureau.

This board has held 42 meetings and has decided more than 2,500 cases of disputed names. One of the decisions long since made was that "Behring" sea was a Germanized spelling of the name of the original Danish discoverer of that ocean which was "Bering," without the "h." In the official proceedings of the Paris tribunal, the corrupted spelling was retained, but in the proceedings, as printed officially by the state department, the name is spelt correctly, "Bering." So also with "Korea," so generally written "Corea," the official determination is that the initial letter should be "K" and not "C." and it is accordingly spelled "Kores" in all state department documents.

Among the departures approved by the boards are these: Dropping the final "h" in the termination of "burg," abbreviation of borough to "boro," the spelling of the word "centre" as here given; the discontinuance of the hyphen in connecting parts of names, the omission of the letters "C. H." after the names of county seats; the simplification of names consisting of more than one word by their combination into one word; the avoidance of the use of the possessive form of names, and the dropping of the words "city" and "town" as part of names.

Is Now a Full Fledged Lawyer.

J. "Monte" Ward, the famous ex-ball player, who, after undergoing his final examinations as a law student came to Bellefonte to rusticate while awaiting the decision of the examining board, on Tuesday received official information that he had passed a very creditable examination and had been admitted to the bar of New York. To say that this made Monte happy would be expressing it quite mildly; he was as jubilant as if he had just stopped a hot-liner to short, threw to first and retired the side when all bases were being filled and it only needed one run for the opposite side to win. He is now a full-fledged lawyer and can write "Esq," after his name with the biggest kind of an "E."

Although it has generally been supposed that Ward was done with base ball forever yet, now that he has passed through the ordeal of study, etc., some of his old time love of the sport has returned; and, especially does he have a desire to see the New York Giants come out of the years' race with a better record than the present showing. And if the stockholders of that club would now meet him with a fair offer he would take hold of it for the balance of the season.

Pawnee Bill's Show.

Pawnee Bill and his wild west show has been in Bellefonte and gone. Both afternoon and evening performances on Wednesday were witnessed by large audiences the huge canvass tent being packed on both occasions. The performance was very good seemed to be the universal opinion of all who saw it; and there were some new and unique acts and features never seen in the regular circus. The Australin Bushmen, in the their boomerang throwing, excited the greatest appreciation from all present. During the afternoon a mishap occurred in one of the races, the rider falling from a horse which stumbled and being trampled upon. Dr. Harris rendered assistance and pronounced the injuries comparatively slight, no bones being broken.

The Year of the Bicycle.

This year will go into history as bicycle year. The growth of the wheel's popularity has been so amazing that it seems as if all the world had suddenly discovered that the wheel is a good thing and is trying to get on one as soon as possible. The roads are alive with cyclers. The factories cannot meet the demand. The supply of tubing is exhausted.—Ex.

A Man and His Bottle.

In an opinion by Justice Mitchell the Supreme Court of the State has decided that the man with a bottle is all right. The case under consideration was carried up from Bucks county, a man being charged with furnishing liquor on Sunday while electioneering. The alleged offense consisted in furnishing sundry potions of enthusiasm from a hip-pocket bottle.

The learned Court—probably with a knowledge born of experience—holds it to be a common act of hospitality in Bucks county for one citizen to call another out in the woodshed on Sunday to sample the contents of his bottle, and repeat. It is also regarded as an incident of common Bucks county discource that said citizens should discuss politics during the interval between the first sample and the second judgment. Consequently the man with a bottle and a generous disposition is regarded as a personal friend and not an enemy to the public policy.

This decision will give comfort to many. It will encourage a giving and forgiving spirit in the man who carries genial spirits in a bottle about election time. It may also encourage a flourishing wholesale trade in pocket size flasks and stimulate the construction of woodsheds. There is one drawback, however, and that is the Court may regard the matter differently outside of Bucks county. Chief Justice Sterrett, a product of Allegheny county, dissented from the opinion of the court, an indication that in that county two men and a bottle may be regarded as a combination of uncommon hospitality in a woodshed.

The Wide Tire Law.

It is a well settled fact that more good roads are spoiled by narrow wagon tires than by any other means, and in many of the cities and towns in the country, ordinances are passed compelling the use of three and four inch tires on heavy wagons. Where thousands of dollars are annually expended in rebuilding and repairing streets and roads it is only wisdom to prevent their destruction by narrow tired wagons. In this state a law has been passed and approved by the governor allowing a rebate of five dollars from the taxes of all persons using wide tires on their heavy wagons. This of itself should stimulate the use of wide tires to, say nothing of the heavier loads that can be hauled, and the preservation and improvement of the roads. Wide tired wagons with the front axles a little shorter than the rear ones, make effective road rollers and thereby improve the roads instead of cutting them up with deep ruts as is done with narrow tires on axles of equal length.

Was a Disguised Blessing.

The entomologist tells us that, after all, our May cold wave was a disguised blessing. For 17 years there has been a drop in temperature in May. It has been thought, too, in nearly every case that these cold waves did "immense damage" to crops, but it is probable that on an average they increased production. Plant lice and other destructive parasites, which begin hatching when the thermometer rises above seventy degrees, multiply with such rapidity that if they were not killed by cold waves after the first warm weather of May it would be impossible to raise either fruit or grapes, while many cereals would be greatly damaged.

Decadence of the Horse.

Our former invaluable friend the horse, that looked on the bicycle as the forerunner of his coming doom, will doubtless feel that doom sealed by the reports of the race of horseless carriages in France. The steed of the future, for uses both of pleasure and labor, will doubtless be an automatom, driven by electricity and managed by a touch. Yet with all the advantages of such a system there will be something missed even by the unsentimental in the honest affection and unquestioning loyalty of our dumb living servants.—From the Baltimore American.

Their Second Picnic.

The Booneville silver cornet band will hold their second annual picnic in Strohecker's grove, near Booneville, on Saturday, July 27. Twelve Sunday schools have been invited to participate in the pleasures of the day. There will be singing and addresses. A darkey quartet will also be present and will render selections. The Millheim and Nittany bands will furnish music. Ice cream, cake, soft drinks, etc., will be sold.

Eustace B. Grimes Married.

The following from the Harrisburg Independent will be of interest to some of our readers.

Eustace B. Grimes, of Philadelphia, private secretary under ex-Secretary of Commonwealth W. F. Harrity, was married on Wednesday to Miss Annie E. Bergstresser of this city, by Rev. Father Germanus Kohl, of this city. The newly wedded couple will reside in Philadelphi.

More Oil Prospectors.

A company of prospectors has been formed for the purpose of seeking gas and oil in the country adjacent to Penfield, and it is proposed to put down three wells. One will be located about two miles northeast of Penfield on Mountain run, another will be sunk about four miles northeast on Laurel run, and the third will be located about five miles southeast between Laurel and Medix runs.

Advancing to Boston.

In giving advance editorial notice to the Christian Endeavor Convention, which began to-day in Boston and holds sessions for five days, the Philadelphia Press says: "It will be one of the most impressive proofs that could be given of the vitality and the force of the Christian Church in the last decade of the nineteenth century. A total attendance of 50,000 delegates from outside of Boston and vicinity is expected and with them will be present some of the most distinguished and eloquent ministers and church leaders from all denominations. The five day's session of the convention will be filled from sunrise until late in the evening with meetings at which speeches, reports and plans in the interest of the organization will be heard and discussed. And in all respects it is anticipated that it will be the most successful convention of this order yet held.

The Christian Endeavor movement is one of the four great movements which have marked the history of the modern Christian church. The establishment of the Sunday School was the first of these movements, and for a long time it remained the only one. Next came the organization of the Young Men's Christian Associations, the semi centennial of which was recently celebrated in London. The Salvation Army movement followed, and last of the four came the Christian Endeavor movement. Each of these four orders sprang from a small beginning, and those who initiated them could have had no idea of the importance of the step they were taking. The result in each case shows impressively the influence that one man of strong convictions can exert in furthering the cause of morals and Christianity."

As a Quay Delegate.

Alfred A. Dale, of Bellefonte, announce himself in the News as a candidate for delegate to the Republican State Convention, subject to the decision of the Republican county convention. Mr. Dale, if elected, will support and work for M. S. Quay's election as chairman of the Republican State Committee. He is an earnest supporter of Mr. Quay. He believes that Quay is the shrewdest and best leader the party ever had and is just the man to lead the Republican hosts to a glorious victory in 1896. About three years ago Mr. Dale was honored by his party as a candidate for the state legislature and, although defeated with the rest of the ticket, received the united support of the party. He is now a candidate again on the short side but he seems to be determined to test how many friends our junior Senator has in this county.

An Unsatisfactory Victory.

The first of the rowing heats in which the Cornell crew took part results in a victory for the latter of the kind which does not settle anything. Through some misunderstanding the Leanders did not start at the word and the Cornell crew went over the course and was given the heat without a contest. This gives Cornell a heat to the good in the race to be decided by a succession of contests. It is a start to which the American crew is entitled by the rules; but as it decides nothing as to the relative merits of the contesting crews, it is evident that our rowers did not go to England to win races in that way. It is to be hoped that the rest of the races will be rowed out to finish and that Cornell's victory, if she wins one, will be of the indisputable kind that is secured by well contested oarsmanship.

Buttermilk for Freckles.

Some one recommends the use of buttermilk to remove freckles. It should be secured as fresh as possible; it will be found that nothing can equal this fresh buttermilk for removing tan, freckles, sunburn or moth spots. It has the great advantage that it does not injure the skin, but makes it soft and white. Take a soft sponge and bathe the face, neck and arms before retiring for the night; then wipe off the drops lightly. In the morning wash it off thoroughly and wipe dry with a crash towel. Two or three such baths each week during the summer months will take off and keep off the tan and freckles and keep the skin soft and smooth.

Mrs. R. W. Showalter Dead.

Mrs. Ada., widow of the late R. W. Showalter, of Philipsburg, died in the homeopathic hospital, in Philadelphia, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, aged about 55 years. The deceased had been in poor health for a number of years and last week was removed to the above institution, where an operation was performed Sunday. A mother, two sisters, and three brothers, all of this county, survive. The remains were removed to Philipsburg Tuesday night.

Fell and Broke His Leg.

On Tuesday about 11 o'clock Harry Barnes fell from an apple tree in the rear of John Bullocks, breaking his right limb just above the ankle and sustaining numerous bruises and contusions. He was picked up and conveyed to his home on Spring street by Secretary Cota and Dr. Harris summoned, who set the injured member and rendered all possible attendance.

Withdrew the Suit.

The assault and battery case between Mrs. M. Dougherty, Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Kane, which took place at Axe Mann several weeks ago, has been fixed up and it may not come before the judge or jury. This is a sensible way of closing up a case of this kind—where one party was as deep in the mud as the other was in the mire. Financially it is the best

Grief as a Disease.

A medical authority says that grief is a disease and must be treated as such. It cannot be ignored, neither can it be consoled away. It must be accepted and allowed to wear itself out. As a rule, readjustment comes slowly. Sorrow, grief and the emotion caused by all great misfortunes should be regarded as akin to acute infectious diseases, which they resemble in result; and later as convalescence from such diseases. In this class of illness seclusion, rest, sleep, appropriate food, fresh air, sunshine and interests that tax neither mind or body, are required. After extreme sorrow the nervous system needs, above everything, complete rest. The poison of grief is more than a name. To urge work, study, travel, and the vain search for amusements, is both useless and dangerous. For a time the whole organism is overthrown and temporary seclusion is imperative for proper adjustment. Medical observations show that the physical results of depressing emotions are similar to those caused by bodily accidents, fatigue, chill, partial starvation and loss of blood. Birds, moles and dogs, which apparently died in consequence of capture and from conditions that correspond in human being to acute nostalgia and "broken heart," were examined after death as to the condition of their internal organs. It was found that the nutrition of the tissues had been interferred with, and the substance proper of various yital organs had undergone the same kind of degeneration as that brought about by phosphorus or the germs of infectious disease.

Severely Injured.

One day last week while Mr. M. Cowdrick of Bellefonte was mowing grass in one of his fields near town the seat gave way and he fell on the end of a bolt, It entered the flish on his back, near the spine, causing a very painful wound. He managed to tie the horses and rode one home. He was in a weak and faint condition when he arrived and was under the attention of the physician for several days. Had the team frightened when the seat broke his injuries would have proven serious.

Odd Fellows Picnic.

The next important gathering will be the picnic at Hecla Park, held under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. of Hublersburg, on Saturday July 20th. They are making special preparations for the occasion. There will be a complete program of amusements for the day. Several bands will be on the ground. Prominent speakers have been engaged to address the order of interesting topics. There will be ample preparations for furnishing warm meals and refreshments.

More by good luck than good management, as it now appears, no one was killed outright by the collapse of the building at Atlantic City, in which the Elks were holding their annual assemblage. The list of the injured is a long one, however, and every bruise and broken limb furnishes an indictment of the blunder worse than a crime that led to the selection of the decayed and abandoned structure as the place in which to hold the convention.

No one who really knew the condition of the structure could possibly have been responsible for its selection and none but those who knew all about it should have been allowed to have anything to do with it. Great audiences should be permitted to assemble only in buildings that are known to be in good repair and have been constructed to stand the necessary strain.

It smacks a good deal of a demand to have the stable locked after the horse has been stolen to insist on this sound principle after the collapse has taken place, but the accident should at least serve as a safeguard against other accidents of a similar nature.

Local Department.

—And now, if he will accept, it will be councilman Valentine.

—There has not been one game of base ball in Bellefonte this season. What has become of our sporting fraternity?

—If you are going to Atlantic City wait and see what the C. R. R. of Pa. has to offer in the way of fare and time limit.

—The Lutheran church property is being improved by the laying of a new stone gutter on the north and west sides of that edifice.

—Dr. George W. Atherton, of the State College, was in Philadelphia over Sunday and told the reporters there the political status of Centre county to a nicety.

—Marshall Hop on, father of Mrs. Annie Tipton, of this place, died at his home in Tyrone Sunday evening, aged 74 years and 25 days.

—An exchange notes the fact that there are three kinds of people in every community, "the wills, the wonts and the cants." To which class do you belong?

—It is understood the C. R. R. of Pa. has something of an interesting character to offer in connection with their low rate excursion to Atlantic City, Tuesday, July 23rd.

—Quay seems to be claiming the earth. He is very profuse with his estimates. If we may believe him, his election as State Chairman is a certainty. Our advice is: "Dear Quay, don't talk."

—One of the most beautiful monuments usually seen now stands in Mott's marble yard. It is for Mrs. Joseph, and when erected in the cemetery will be a beautiful memorial to that lady's last resting place.

—Verily one of the most unsightly thoroughfares in Bellefonte at present is Curtin street, on which hundreds of dollars were spent to put it in a good condition. And it will require several hundred more to make it even fairly passable.

—Dog days begin next Sunday and will continue to August 27. Formerly the heliacal rising of Sirius or the dog star occurred at this season, and the ancients imagined that the increased heat of the season was caused by that event. Hence the name.

—The training school ship, on which is Dale Musser, of Bellefonte, has been heard from by cable. On June 23 it was at the city Horta, in the Azore Islands, and on July 8th, it sailed into Southampton, England, with all on board enjoying the best of health.

—Last Saturday J. I. McClure became the possessor of a mother 'coon and four cubs and on Saturday, July 20, and Tuesday, July 23rd, will have the entire family on exhibition in front of his store on Bishop street. You should see them, as they are a great curiosity.

—Every democrat you meet is for Quay and say "if they were republicans they would be for Quay in this contest." This is one good reason why every republican should be for the other fellow. Our enemies are not for Quay because they love him or the republican party.

—The Pennsylvania railroad company has decided to reduce passenger fares on its main line division. Such change is to go into effect on July 15. The officials of the company are somewhat reticent in regard to what the reduction will be, but it was learned, however, that the company contemplated issuing a package of ten tickets as well as one hundred ticket books.

—A new trick is being played on the unsuspecting farmer. Two prepossessing men paint a sign on a farmer's fence and give him a few dollars to guarantee them that no one else be permitted to paint a sign over it. The farmer is asked to sign a receipt, acknowledging the payment of the money, in order that they may return the same to employers. The receipt that he signs turns out to be a promissory note for $200 or $500. Don't bite.

—Of late a number of Bellefonters have missed trains at the P. R. R. depot in this place, then placed the fault on the schedule of the departure of trains as published in the "Traveler's Guide" in the DAILY NEWS. For the information of everybody we will say right here that the time as given there is correct, and has been correct right along, with the published time tables of the company. The trouble is somewhere else, probable in the town clock, the traveler's watch, etc.

—On Wednesday, July 3rd, John S. Waite and Ben. Bradley departed on their bicycles for DuBois, going by way of Philipsburg, Clearfield, Curwensville and Luthersburg. At DuBois they took in the races, then started on a trip through the north-western part of the State to Niagara Falls, where they spent a day and night, then started on the return trip, arriving in Bellefonte Saturday noon, having traveled in the nine days over seven hundred miles on their wheels and about one hundred on the train. It was a pleasant trip and the cyclists had many interesting experiences.

—Fort Condo now holds eight regular inmates.

—The Wagner flouring mill at Milesburg, is again up for sale.

—The Valentine puddling and rolling mills are now in operation.

—W. I. Fleming's appointment is in the State department instead of the Insurance department at Harrisburg.

—There will be a festival at the United Evangelical church Friday and Saturday evenings, to which all are invited. j11-2t

—There is plenty of evidence already that during the long cold winter months not a single fly got frozen or mislaid.

—The large window in the front of Richards' jewelry store is going to be one of the greatest improvements in that locality.

—There are a large number of strangers visiting in Bellefonte at present, and the young people are consequently having very pleasant times.

—Isn't it queer how many business men are compelled to get around so early on show morning, all on account of so much work to attend to, too.

—The Episcopal church will this week be fully equipped with electric light and during the summer months the electric will be used and in the winter gas.

—It is now said that Governor Hastings will make a personal canvass of some of the doubtful counties in the state, in the interest of Col. B. F. Gilkeson for State Chairman.

—An exchange whose editor probably knows how it is himself very properly suggests: If you are looking for a man who needs your prayerful attention to keep him out of mischief just take a peep into the mirror every morning before going down town. You can't watch that fellow too closely.

—The chestnut trees are now in full and beautiful bloom. The magnificent boquets arrayed as they are in creamy white, contrast splendidly with the dark green foliage of the other forest trees with which they are surrounded. If profusion of bloe indicate a full crop of nuts, chestnuts will be very plentiful next fall.

—The new house of Mrs. Bryson, on East Linn street, is progressing very well, already presenting a very promising appearance. Work on the Pruner block is at present suspended, owing to a strike on the part of the employees, who aver that Mr. Pruner is unjust in his demands on them.

—Mrs. Mary Blanchard, the president of the Village Improvement Society, has rented her house, on Linn street, to Mrs. Hendrickson, of New Jersey, and is making arrangements for a two year's stay in Boston, where her two younger daughters will enter school this Fall. Miss Rebecca is a Junior at Wellesley, and Fred will attend Princeton.

—On Saturday evening the Valentine Iron Co., received a brand new "dinkey" engine from the Baldwin locomotive works, Philadelphia. It will be used at Nigh bank on a narrow guage road now being constructed. New mines are being opened about one mile distant, and the ore will be hauled to Nigh bank to be washed. The engine is a dandy and will undoubtedly give satisiaction.

Mr. James H. Hoy returned to his home in this place on Tuesday evening from Fort Wayne, Ind., nursing a very sore hand, the result of getting that member in the cog wheels of a machine he was using in the railroad shops at that place, in which he is employed. As a result of the accident the third finger on the left hand had to be amputated, while two others were very badly smashed.

We regret to learn of the serious illness of Capt. Christ Dale, of Benner township, who is suffering from a complication of throat and lung troubles. He departed this morning for Philadelphia to undergo special treatment, being advised to do so by his family physician. He was accompanied by Clement Dale, Esq., who will remain with him for some days. Captain Dale's condition is such as to cause great anxiety on the part of his friends.

—Chief Clerk Gearhart, of the State Department, has made a summary of the work of the late legislature. He has put in many hours of hard work getting the bills properly recorded and makes the following comparisons: Bills approved 1895, 483; bills approved 1894, 371; excess, 113 The highest number before this year since the Constitution of 1874 was in 1893. Bills vetoed before adjournment, 24; bills vetoed after adjournment, 97; partial vetoes 5; total. 125; vetoed in 1893 before adjournment, 25; after adjournment, 48; total 73; resolutions signed 1895, 68; resolutions signed 1894, 43; excess, 25. One resolution was vetoed this year.

—The annual reunion of the Survivors' Association of the Twentieth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry, will be held at the Belmont mansion in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, Saturday, July 20th. There will be a banquet in the evening. The Second and Twentieth cavalry regiments were consolidated at Clouds Mills, Virginia, after the surrender of Lee in 1865, forming the First Provisional Pennsylvania Mounted Volunteers. The object of the consolidation was to form a complete regiment for special service, but it soon proved that the services of the new organization would not be needed, and the regiment was discharged in July, 1865.

Postoffice Robbers Caught.

Saturday night it was reported around Bellefonte that two suspicious-looking characters had been seen lurking around town, and walking up and down the railroad as if looking for something. They had made a few purchases around town on Saturday, among which was a keg of beer, which they paid for all in pennies. About eight o'clock the police arrested the two and, on being searched a revolver and two knives, with a few pennies, were found on them. They were taken to jail and, the supposition being that they had been engaged in some recent robberies, Mr. J. M. Parker, of Roland, was notified and he came to Bellefonte on Sunday morning and his clerk, Mr. Wantz, identified the two men as the parties who robbed the Roland postoffice on Tuesday night, June 18. Mr. Parker said the knives found on men were identical with those stolen from his store at that time, when about $40 were stolen from the postoffice and near an equal amount from the store.

The men were put to jail and the U. S. postoffice inspector at Pittsburg, D. C. Owings, notified of the capture. They gave their names as Edward Hannahan, of Altoona, and James O'Neil, of Williamsport. Both are young men and unmarried.

Another Bellefonte Boy Gone Wrong

From Monday's Lock Haven Democrat we take the following:

"A man named Fellenbaum and Lewis Fabian had been in business together in Bellefonte. A few days ago Fellenbaum sold the business without Fabian's knowledge and skipped toward this city with the horse and wagon. Chief Keller was instructed to arrest Fellenbaum and after getting on the man's track captured him on a farm in the narrows near Loganton. The chief brought Fellenbaum, the horse and wagon to this city. Fabian afterwards came here for the animal and vehicle. Fellenbaum, however, says that while Fabian owned the store he, Fellenbaum, owned the horse and wagon. Fellenbaum was given a hearing this afternoon before Alderman Parsons, who remanded him to the custody of the chief of police of Bellefonte, which officer took him to that place this afternoon for a further hearing."

The above refers to Howard Fellenbaum, aged about twenty years, who on last Friday sold his fruit and confectionery stand by Beezer & Bosch's butcher shop, to Fred Sourbeck. He was brought to Bellefonte Monday evening and at 2 o'clock this afternoon was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace, John Keichline.

Died at Gatesburg.

On Saturday morning Gatesburg lost one of its oldest citizens in the death of Mr. Christopher Harpster, a native of that place, who spent his entire life of 72 years and 2 days, within a few rods of where he was born. Mr. Harpster's death, though he had been suffering a long time with dropsy and heart disease, was very sudden. Three weeks ago he was in Bellefonte and attended the democratic county convention. Since that time he has been out and around as usual, even up to Friday evening. Friday night he took sick and Saturday morning at 8 o'clock he died. He is survived by a wife and four children, all grown up. The funeral took place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, services being held in the Lutheran church at that place by Rev. C. T. Aikens, of Pine Grove, assisted by Rev. Krider. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining.

Joseph Shulty Killed.

A dispatch received on Saturday contained the sad news of an accident at Waynesboro, Pa., in which Joseph Shulty, of this place, was instantly killed. The telegram gave no information or particulars of how the accident occurred. Shulty was one of a gang of drillers, drilling for gas, and just a few days ago they struck an unusually strong well.

Although Shulty has claimed Bellefonte as his home, for several years past he has been away most of the time. He was a brother-in-law of Edward Woods. His wife and two children have been with him in Waynesboro for some time, and they intended moving out next week. Mr. Shulty was at present a member of the West End Branch, No. 321, A. O. U. M., of Lock Haven, in which he was insured for $2,000.

Postoffice Robber, No. 3.

Tuesday's Lock Haven Democrat says: Chief Keller and Constable Martin arrested a man on a freight train between this city and Mill Hall, who is suspected of being one of the robbers who burglarized the postoffice at Roland, Centre county, recently. The man answers the description of the robber who stood guard outside the postoffice while the other two did the stealing inside. The man was kept in jail over night and this morning was taken to Williamsport to having a hearing before the United States authorities.

Atlantic City Excursion.

On Friday, July 23d, the Central R. R. of Penna. will sell low rate excursion tickets to Atlantic City from Bellefonte and local points. These tickets will be good to return on or before Aug. 1st. Further particulars of an interesting character will be made known to our readers in a few days.

A Severe Storm.

A severe thunder storm accompanied with a very heavy rain and considerable hail, passed over Bellefonte at noon today. Though no damage was done here, it is probable the corn fields and fruit trees suffered throughout the country.

H. C. VALENTINE ELECTED

As a Member of Council to Succeed Judge James A. Beaver.

Council convened on Monday evening with members Miller, Gerberich, Hillibish, Brockerhoff and Brachbill present—just a quorum. Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved as read.

Col. J. L. Spangler and L. T. Munson appeared to again make complaint regarding the utter incapacity and disagreeable stench of the sewer at the alley by Mr. Munson's residence.

The Street committee reported the new Lamb street bridge about completed, as well as the approaches thereto from either side. The street leading out to the Bellefonte Furnace Co's plant was reported in a bad condition, the bank has given away and it needs repairing badly.

The Water committee reported several leaks repaired in various parts of the town. A connection was made in the water pipe between Linn and Curtin streets on East end. A hydrant was removed from East Howard street. The pump is being run the usual number of hours.

The Market committee reported $10.20 market fees collected during the last two weeks.

The Fire & Police, Nuisance and Finance committees had no reports to make.

There being no old business to transact the complaint of Messrs. Spangler and Munson was referred to the Street committee with power to act.

On recommendation of Mr. Miller Mr. Harry C. Valentine was unanimously elected as a member of council from the North ward to serve until the next general election in the place of Judge James A. Beaver, resigned.

A number of crossings, gutters, etc., were reported in bad condition and all referred to the Street committee with power to act.

No other business being before council, the following bills were approved and then came adjournment:

Thos Shaughensey, market clerk	1.00
Police pay roll	35.00
Street pay roll	53.55
Water pay roll	41.25
Beaver Lumber Co., lumber supplies	6.40
Edward K. Rhoads, coal for Logans	2 60
A. G. Morris, limestone screenings	5.54
Total amount	$ 145.34

Wouldn't Wear the Trousers.

Last week Goodman, the young man who is in durance vile in Fort Condo, awaiting trial on a serious charge, tore his trouser legs off above the knee, and during four days went bare-limbed. On Saturday Sheriff Condo bought him a new pair of trousers and Goodman refused to put them on, coming out in the corridor naked below as usual. Saturday evening the Sheriff told him that if he did not have the new trousers on Sunday morning they would put them on for him.

So, when he came for his breakfast Goodman wore the new trousers, but soon after made his appearance with his above-the-knee breeches on. This was a little too much for the Sheriff and calling deputy Weaver they went into the jail, found Goodman in his cell, tore the abbreviated garment from his body and threw it out of the jail window. He then told Goodman that if he ventured out of his cell without the new garment on he would get a good thrashing. This had the desired effect, and it is about the only way such prisoners can be treated.

How Joe. Shulty Was Killed.

The accident by which Joseph Shulty lost his life occurred at Waynesburg Friday morning, and was the result of an over-charged well, the casing being blown out and Shulty having both legs so badly shattered as to necessitate amputation. He never survived the shock.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte Saturday evening on the late train and taken to his late home on Bishop street, from which the funeral occurred on Monday at 10 o'clock, interment being made in the Catholic cemetery.

July 13 a Memorial Date.

One year ago July 13, Mill Hall was devastated by the fire which reduced to ashes over forty buildings. The enterprising borough, however, rose from its ashes and to-day the many new structures of brick, show that, so far as the improvement of the borough is concerned, the fire proved more of a blessing in disguise than anything else.

Where Horses are Cheap.

The horse millennium appears to have arrived. In the extreme West the horse is not worth so much as a sheep dog. The Stevenson (Wash.) Pioneer, June 10, says: Skamania county people who visit The Dalles these days usually bring home a horse with them. Good work horses are selling up there at from $2 to $5 a head.

The Other Robber Captured.

On Monday word was telephoned to Bellefonte that the third man who was engaged in the Roland postoffice robbery was at Snow Shoe Intersection. But before the Bellefonte officials could get out there and arrest him he jumped a freight train and went to Lock Haven, only to be nabbed by Chief Keller, of that place, to whom word had been telegraphed to be on the lookout for him. The men were taken to Pittsburg to-day to be tried in the United States court.

Married.

At the residence of May Miller, on East High street, by Rev. H. A. Grant, on Monday, July 16, 1895, William H. Green and Lizzie Harding, both of Bellefonte.

—The crop prospects are showing signs of mitigation. The rains of the past few days have given corn a good start, except in those specially unlucky localities missed by the showers. The Delaware peach crop is estimated to be a total of three and a half million baskets. Apples are by no means such a total loss as was expected after the May freeze and give every promise of plenty in the fall. The hay crop is a failure so far, but the continuance of such weather as this may make a second crop before the season is ended. Western reports indicate a wheat crop. On the whole, while this has been a hard season for agriculture so far, there is still a prospect that it will be far from a season of total failure.

WHAT IS AN Electrotherm

It is a flexible sheet or pad composed of asbestos with embedded wire, which when attached to the socket of an electric lamp, offers sufficient resistance to the current to produce a Constant and Uniform degree of heat.

It has many advantages over the hot water bottle where there is an electric current in the house. Its heat is uniform, by its regulating switch three different degrees of heat can be used—it does not leak—it can be used as a poultice by applying over wet flannel—useful for cold feet, Cramps Chilliness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pneumonia, local pains and wherever the application of heat is desired.
